Records relating to selection, notification, and testing for the use of illegal drugs by civilian employees and selected applicants for civilian positions, to include self-identification records; requests for testing submitted by employees, supervisors, and commanders; testing notification; documentary evidence in support of testing decision; chain of custody records regarding testing samples; reports of testing results; results relating to the type and quality of testing performed; documentary evidence submitted by employee or applicant in rebuttal of test results; reports of medical findings regarding test results; disciplinary/adverse action records to include notification of proposed action and documentary evidence submitted in support thereof; employee’s response and documentary evidence submitted in support thereof, and management’s action; referrals to counseling/rehabilitation services; and records regarding employee’s consent for release of information concerning counseling/rehabilitation progress.

Authority for maintenance of the system:

Purposes:
Provides the record system necessary to manage the Air Force civilian employee and applicant drug abuse testing program. This system tracks the identification, notification, and testing for drug abuse, to include employees and applicants for selected civilian positions. The system also tracks follow up corrective actions.

The records are also used by the employee’s Medical Review Official; the administrator of any Employee Assistance Program in which the employee is receiving counseling or treatment or is otherwise participating; and supervisory or management officials within the employee’s agency having authority to take adverse personnel action against such employee.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
In order to comply with provisions of 5 U.S.C. 7301, the Department of the Air Force’s “Blanket Routine Uses” do not apply to this system of records.

To a court of competent jurisdiction where required by the United States Government to defend against any challenge against any adverse personnel action is a compatible routine use required by statute.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:
Storage:
System is maintained on paper records kept in file folders and/or on computer tapes and discs.

Retrievability:
Records are retrieved by employee name, Social Security Number, date of birth, specimen identification number or any combination of these.

Safeguards:
Records are accessed by custodian of the records system and by person(s) responsible for servicing the records system of their official duties who are properly screened. Except when under direct physical control by authorized individuals, records will be stored in secure file containers/cabinets or safes and controlled by personnel screening. Computer terminals are located in supervised areas with terminal access controlled by password or other user code systems.

Retention and disposal:
Local retention varies from 3 months to 5 years; or one year after individual has re-assigned, separated, retired, or has died. After that time, records are destroyed by tearing, shredding, pulping, macerating or burning.

System manager(s) and address:

F050 ATC B
System name:
Community College of the Air Force Student Record System.

System location:
The system is centrally administered by the Community College of the Air Force (ATC/ED), Maxwell AFB, AL 36112. Computer processing for the system is performed by the Systems Development Branch, Maxwell AFB, AL.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
The system may have a record for any person who since January 1, 1968 has completed a formal course of instruction conducted by one of the Air Force schools identified in the current Community College of the Air Force General Catalog. Such courses do not include pre-commissioning courses and courses conducted exclusively for jet or their civilian counterparts. The system includes records reflecting Air Force courses completed before 1968 and other educational accomplishments for persons who as enlisted members of the Air Force registered in programs of study leading to credentials awarded by the college. Both here and where appropriate below, the general term Air Force includes the regular Air Force, the Air Force Reserve, and the Air National Guard.

Categories of records in the system:
Individual academic records and, where necessary to serve airmen registered in study programs leading to credentials awarded by the college, a variety of source or substantiating records such as copies of registration applications and document control records derived from such applications, civilian college transcripts, college level examination program score reports; copies of educational records originated by other Air Force and non-Air Force agencies external to the college (such as the Federal Aviation Agency, the United States Armed Forces Institute, and the Defense Activity for Non-traditional Education Support); copies of a variety of Air Force personnel and unit records (such as documents derived from master records maintained by the Air Force Manpower and Personnel Center and microfiche records of locator data); and records of credentials awarded to graduates. The college also maintains copies and related records of communications from, to, or regarding persons interested in the college; its educational programs, its student record system, and related matters. Copies of and statistical records derived from individual responses to surveys, questionnaires, and similar instruments authorized by HQ USAF may also be maintained as needed for managerial evaluation and planning by officers of the college.

Authority for maintenance of the system:
10 USC 9315, Community College of the Air Force; Associate degree; and Air Force Regulation 53-29, Community College of the Air Force Mission.

Purposes:
Records originated in the system document, in terms of credit awarded or accepted in transfer by the college, individual educational accomplishments which satisfy curricular requirements of study programs leading to an Associate in Applied Science degree offered by the college. Transcripts of records in the college are, at the written request of persons concerned, furnished to any recipient(s) designated in such requests. Such recipients typically include Air Force Education Services Centers, other offices where Air Force personnel are stationed, educational institutions, and potential or current employers. CCAF transcripts and copies of other records originated in the college are also used to support educational and occupational counselling, planning, and development; admission to other colleges and related individual affairs. Disclosures of information recorded in the system may be made to employees of civilian contractors engaged by the Air Force to provide services which directly or indirectly support the record system.
Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:

- Records from this system of records may be disclosed for any of the blanket routine uses published by the Air Force.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:
- Permanent student computer records are maintained on and as necessary reproduced from magnetic media. Paper records are maintained in file folders, card files, and special binders/cabinets designed for computer listings.

Retrieval:
- Computer records are retrievable by a combination of Social Security Number (SSN) and certain letters of last name. Paper records are retrievable by either SSN or name.

 Safeguards:
- Records maintained in the college are normally disclosed only upon written request from the subject of the records or upon written request from an Air Force officer or employee responsible to provide educational or related services to Air Force personnel. Disclosures to non-Air Force agencies not requested by the subject of the records require approval of an officer of the college. Except for disclosures within the college as may be necessary to its operations, requests by telephone and other unwritten means will not be honored unless in the judgment of a responsible member of the college staff the requester is a member or employee of the Air Force acting on behalf of a reasoner whose record is requested. Special care is exercised to ensure complete identification of the requester, the person whose record is to be disclosed, and intended use. Other systematic safeguards to ensure integrity of records include secure storage of paper records, computer master files, and long-term retention in other Air Force facilities of records needed to rebuild the entire system in the event of catastrophe, and traditional measures to ensure the security of Air Force facilities. All records in the system are attended by responsible Air Force personnel during duty hours and stored in locked facilities under constant or periodic surveillance by Air Force security police during non-duty hours.

Retention and disposal:
- Retained in office files until superseded, obsolete, or no longer needed for reference. Specific rules for retention of permanent microfiche have not yet been determined. It is anticipated that such records may need to be retained for not less than 30 and not more than 50 years beyond the latest entries on each such record. Active master file records on the computer are by their nature evolution and will be maintained permanently. Paper records maintained to serve students registered in study programs are retained so long as a registrant remains active in his or her study program. Such records are destroyed 1 year after the registrant completes his or her study program. Other records are typically retained only so long as they may serve a useful purpose, which is typically between 30 and 90 days. No rule has yet been defined for retaining records which verify awards of credentials by the college, but it is expected that such records will need to be archival.

System manager(s) and address:
- Senior official responsible for policies and procedures which govern the system: Deputy Chief of Staff, Manpower and Personnel, Headquarters United States Air Force. System Manager: President, Community College of the Air Force (CCAF/CC) Maxwell AFB, AL 36112.

Notification procedure:
- Persons who have not registered in the college should address inquiries regarding records maintained by the college to Chief, Student Records Branch (CCAF/RRR), Maxwell AFB, AL 36112. Persons who have registered in the college may address inquiries as above or to Chief, Academic Programs Division (CCAF/A), also at Maxwell AFB. Such inquiries will need to include the full name (including names of any parents), SSN, and birthdate of the inquirer, and should include a full return address (including ZIP Code). Visits to the college are welcomed, and visitors seeking information about personal records should first visit the Office of the Registrar.

Record access procedures:
- Individual can obtain assistance in gaining access from the System Manager and from addresses listed above.

Contesting record procedures:
- The Air Force's rules for access to records and for contesting and appealing initial determinations by the individual concerned may be obtained from the System Manager.

Record source categories:
- Information obtained from educational institutions, automated system interfaces and from source documents submitted to the college or at the request of individuals concerned, or by other Air Force agencies acting on behalf of individuals concerned.

System name:
Air Force Academy Appointment and Separation Records.

System location:

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
Nominees for Air Force Academy appointment and cadets in training at the Air Force Academy for each Member of Congress, the Vice President, Governors of Territories, and all other nominating sources.

Categories of records in the system:
DD Form 1870 - ‘Nomination for Appointment to the United States Air Force Academy, Military Academy, Naval Academy’ containing nominee’s name, address, date of birth, Social Security number, telephone number, temporary address (if any), type of nomination (principal or competitive), numbered vacancy, and date submitted, name and signature of Member of Congress or other authorized nominating source submitting the nomination; AFHQ Form 0-332 “Air Force Academy Nominee Record” containing the names of the nominees of each Member of Congress, the Vice President, and other authorized nominating sources. (Each member may nominate a total of ten for each vacancy available.) The card also indicates whether a nomination withdrawn or reconsidered for the individual nomination source showing charged or not charged to their quota. (5 allowed at any one time) - 10 USC 9342, year of scheduled graduation or separation date and reason, and reappointment actions; each year after the class enters, a ‘Congressional card’. The form is used to show withdrawal of a nominee or medically disqualified and the nomination system used by the nominating authority; ‘Chargeable and Nonchargeable Air Force Academy Appointment Record’ listing the names of the cadets entering each year for each Member of Congress and for nominating sources showing charged or not charged to their quota (5 allowed at any one time) - 10 USC 9342, year of scheduled graduation or separation date and reason, and reappointment actions; each year after the class enters, a ‘Congressional card’. The form is used to show withdrawal of a nominee or medically disqualified and the nomination system used by the nominating authority; ‘Chargeable and Nonchargeable Air Force Academy Appointment Record’ listing the names of the cadets entering each year for each Member of Congress and for nominating sources showing charged or not charged to their quota. (5 allowed at any one time) - 10 USC 9342, year of scheduled graduation or separation date and reason, and reappointment actions; each year after the class enters, a ‘Congressional card’. The form is used to show withdrawal of a nominee or medically disqualified and the nomination system used by the nominating authority).

Authority for maintenance of the system:
10 USC Chapter 903, United States Air Force Academy; and Senate Resolution 154.

Purposes:
When a cadet separates from the Academy, the Cadet Branch submits a standard system to determine who nominated the cadet so that notification of the separation can be made to the Congressional sponsor. Also used in making reply to any Member of Congress who requests information concerning who nominated a cadet for Academy entrance (10 USC 9342(h)). A form is maintained annually on each Member of Congress, the Vice President, and other authorized nominating sources. Upon receipt of nominations from Members of Congress, only the name of the nominee is entered on the Form and the nominating system used by the number. The form is used to show withdrawal of a nominee or medically disqualified in order to determine the number of active candidates at any given time (10 allowed per vacancy (10 USC 9342)). Cadet Branch uses the system to answer inquiries from nominating sources. AFHQ Form 0-331 (card) is maintained on each Member of Congress, the Vice President, and other authorized nominating sources. Upon entry of each new class into the Air Force Academy, the names of the cadets entering for each Member of Congress are processed. Upon separation of an Academy cadet, the name is cross-out and a notation made of the date of graduation/separation and reason for separation. Another form is used as an attachment to a letter of notification to the Congressional sponsor when a cadet is separated. Upon separation of a Member of Congress, another form is used to provide the names of charge cadets (principals) to their authorized quota and the year of scheduled graduation. Also used to notify new Members of Congress of the chargeable cadets upon entering Congress. Cadet Separation Case Files - A cadet separation case file is maintained on every cadet separated for the period of time his class is in training and for one year after class graduates from the Air Force Academy. These files are maintained since this office is the responsible staff office for implementing the Secretary of the Air Force Instrumentation of separation/discharge action. The case files are further used to reply to Congressional inquiries concerning separation actions. The data contained in the separation case file are: Copy of cadet's resignation/ separation action; copy of Academy Superintendent's letter to Secretary of the Air Force containing recommendation on type of separation action; copy of Secretary of the Air Force Memorandum directing type of separation; copy of 'Report of Separation from United States Air Force Academy'; copy of AF/MPPA notification letter to Congressional sponsor concerning separation; copy of AF/MPPA notification letter to United States Air Force Academy Commandant of Cadets effecting the decision of the Secretary of the Air Force; copy of 'Disenrollment From Officer Candidate-Type Training' (Prepared by Commandant, Air Force Academy); copy of, 'Certificate of Release or Discharge From Active Duty,' (Prepared by Commandant, Air Force Academy); copy of Special Orders effecting separation/discharge action.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
Records from this system of records may be disclosed for any of the blanket routine uses published by the Air Force. Information in the record/records system is provided to the following: Congress, the Vice President, DC Delegate to the U.S. Congress, Governors of Territories and countries sponsoring foreign cadets and the Philippines on candidate nominations, cadet vacancies, appointments, and separations.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:
Storage:
Maintained in visible file binders/cabinets.

Retrievability:
Filed by names.

Safeguards:
Records are accessed by custodian of the record system and by person(s) responsible for servicing the record system in performance of their official duties who are properly screened and cleared for need-to-know. Records are stored in locked cabinets or rooms.

Retention and disposal:
Upon entry of the class each year, forms are destroyed on unsuccessful cadet by tearing into pieces, shredding, pulping, macerating, or burning. The forms on appointed cadets are maintained permanently. Records on separated or discharged cadets are maintained for one year after class graduates.

System manager(s) and address:
Deputy Chief of Staff/Manpower and Personnel, Headquarters United States Air Force.

Notification procedure:
Requests from individuals should be addressed to the System Manager.

Record access procedures:
Individual can obtain assistance in gaining access from the System Manager.

Contesting record procedures:
The Air Force's rules for access to records and for contesting and appealing initial determinations by the individual concerned may be obtained from the System Manager and are published in Air Force Regulation 12-35.

Record source categories:
Members of Congress, the Vice President and other nominating sources.

Exemptions claimed for the system:
None.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
Air Force active duty military personnel, Air Force civilian employees, Air Force Reserve, and Air National Guard personnel, Army, Navy and Marine Corps active duty personnel; and those foreign military personnel who are assigned to aviation duties by competent authority and attached to the USAF for flying support or who have been suspended from flying duties for a period of not more than 5 years.

Categories of records in the system:
The base-level AFORMALS data base contains a master file of flying records for each individual in categories listed above, a month-to-date transaction file and a twelve month history file. A centralized file of selected information from each individual's master record is also maintained at HQ USAF, and flying history information is maintained at Norton Air Force Base, CA. In addition to automated data files, this system uses manual files for maintaining historical data and important source documents. An Individual Flight Record Folder (IFR) is established for each individual and is the prime repository for a computer listing which itemizes each individual's flight accomplishments as well as various source documents which serve to validate information entered into the computer data base for the system. Each Host Operations System Management office maintains a file of Aeronautical Orders and Military Pay Orders to provide source documentation of flying pay actions initiated by the flight manager. Information which is maintained in these separated files is obtained directly from AFORMS master file or from subsequent processing of information entered into the master file. Categories of information maintained in the master file are: IDENTIFICATION DATA - provides individual identifiers and other information directly obtained from the personnel file. DUTY ASSIGNMENT DATA - includes information such as the major command of assignment for the individual, the Air Force Specialty Code indicating professional duties, the unit, the responsible installation, system number, base of assignment, etc. AICREW TRAINING AND QUALIFICATION DATA - includes information such as flight and ground professional flying training accomplishments, aircrew qualification status, physical status for flight duties, types of aircraft assigned, etc. UTILIZATION MANAGEMENT DATA - Includes flight experience, aircrew qualifications, aviation duties assigned, etc. FLYING PAY ENTITLEMENT DATA - Includes information needed to administer the payment of flying incentive pay for each individual. LOCAL USE DATA - contains information used by major or local command to supplement general system information as needed to meet unique unit requirements within the categories of information listed herein. SYSTEM CONTROL DATA - Contains computer data used to automatically control internal system functions.

Authority for maintenance of the system:

Purpose(s):
The AFORMALS provides information and automated data processing capabilities used to manage each category of flier listed above and is the prime repository for a computer listing which itemizes each individual's flight accomplishments as well as various source documents which serve to validate information entered into the computer data base for the system. Each Host Operations System Management office maintains a file of Aeronautical Orders and Military Pay Orders to provide source documentation of flying pay actions initiated by the flight manager. Information which is maintained in these separated files is obtained directly from AFORMS master file or from subsequent processing of information entered into the master file. Categories of information maintained in the master file are: IDENTIFICATION DATA - provides individual identifiers and other information directly obtained from the personnel file. DUTY ASSIGNMENT DATA - includes information such as the major command of assignment for the individual, the Air Force Specialty Code indicating professional duties, the unit, the responsible installation, system number, base of assignment, etc. AICREW TRAINING AND QUALIFICATION DATA - includes information such as flight and ground professional flying training accomplishments, aircrew qualification status, physical status for flight duties, types of aircraft assigned, etc. UTILIZATION MANAGEMENT DATA - Includes flight experience, aircrew qualifications, aviation duties assigned, etc. FLYING PAY ENTITLEMENT DATA - Includes information needed to administer the payment of flying incentive pay for each individual. LOCAL USE DATA - contains information used by major or local command to supplement general system information as needed to meet unique unit requirements within the categories of information listed herein. SYSTEM CONTROL DATA - Contains computer data used to automatically control internal system functions.
The Air Force's rules for access to records and for contesting and appealing initial determinations by the individual concerned may be obtained from the System Manager.

Record source categories:
- Information obtained from individuals, aircrew managers, automated system interfaces and from source documents such as reports.

Exemptions claimed for the system:
- None.

System name:
- Contractor Flight Operations.

System location:
- Army, Navy, Air Force and Defense Logistics Agency activities who approve contractor aircraft flight and ground operations procedures or utilize contractor personnel who operate aircraft for the government.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
- All contractor personnel who operate aircraft for the Army, Navy, Air Force, or Defense Logistic Agency for which the government assumes some risk of loss or damage. It covers both flight crewmember and noncrewmember personnel designated by a contractor to conduct flights, perform functions while the Aircraft is in flight, or perform ground operations in support of such flights.

Categories of records in the system:
- Name; SSN; home address and telephone number; DOB security clearance data; education; military service data; flight qualification, proficiency, training, and experience records; standardization and evaluation data; safety and mishap records; medical and physiological data; and, similar data.

Authority for maintenance of the system:

Purpose(s):
- Used to monitor and manage individual contractor flight and ground personnel records.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
- Records from this system may be used for any of the blanket routine uses published by the Air Force.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:
- Storage:
  - Maintained in file folders, on computer magnetic tapes and on magnetic disks.

File also contains information on AF Form 1621, Evaluation of Individual Noise Exposure, which is used to document data and observations relating to an individual's exposure to occupational noise and AF Form 1672, Hearing Conservation Diagnostic Center Referral, which contains follow-up audiometric examination data similar to that in DD Forms 2215 and 2216.

Authority for maintenance of the system:

Purpose(s):
- Used by USAF Occupational and Environmental Health Laboratory (OEHL) to provide continuing review of the Air Force Hearing Conservation Program by updating damage-risk criteria, modifying monitoring audiometry program procedures, validating personnel disposition procedures relating to occupationally induced hearing losses, evaluating hearing protective devices and procedures, at the specific request of a USAF Medical Facility to provide an historical record of the results of an individual's monitoring audiometric test results. Also used by USAF School of Aerospace Medicine for Research Associated with noise induced hearing losses. Used by base Medical Personnel to monitor employee health status for occupational health programs, to use in formulating recommendations to supervisors on requirements to remove individual from further exposure, to determine need for investigation of workplace environment for abnormal exposure conditions. Used by supervisors to determine whether employee can continue to work in the exposure situation, to determine relative risk of various work tasks, to improve safety of noise exposure procedures.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
- Records from this system of records may be disclosed for any of the blanket routine uses published by the Air Force. Used by Bureau of Employees Compensation for Information relating to individuals' claims relating to occupationally induced hearing losses.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:
- Storage: Maintained in file folders and on computer magnetic tapes.
- Retrieval: Filed by name, Social Security Number (SSN), date of birth, and Air Force Specialty Code/Job Code.

Safeguards:
- Records are accessed by commanders of medical centers and hospitals, by custodian of the record system, and by person(s) responsible for servicing the record system in performance of their official duties who are properly screened and cleared for need-to-know.
- Records are controlled by computer system software.

Retention and disposal:
- At Occupational and Environmental Health Laboratory (OEHL), retained in computer until no longer needed; at bases, retained as part of medical record for fifty years after date of latest document, then destroyed.

System manager(s) and address:
- Air Force Medical Service Center, Aerospace Medical Consultants Division, Directorate of Professional Services (HQ AFMSC/SGPA, Brooks Air Force Base, TX 78233).

Notification procedure:
- Requests from individuals should be addressed to the System Manager.

Record access procedures:
- Individual can obtain assistance in gaining access from the System Manager. Mailing addresses are in the Department of Defense directory in the appendix to the Air Force's systems notice.

Contesting record procedures:
- The Air Force's rules for access to records and for contesting and appealing initial determinations by the individual concerned may be obtained from the System Manager.

Record source categories:
- Information obtained from medical institutions.

'Treatment Records (original) retained in individual health records at Air Force hospitals, medical centers and clinics as part of health record or National Personnel Records Center, Civilian Personnel Records, 111 Winnebago Street, St. Louis, MO 63118. First copy retained at USAF School of Aerospace Medicine, Hyperbaric Medicine Division (HMD), Brooks Air Force Base, TX 78235. Other copies at Air Force Medical Service Center, major command headquarters, and individual Physiological Training Unit (PTU) having Compression Therapy capability. Compression Chamber Operations record is retained at PTUs having Compression Therapy capability; Compression Chamber Reactor Case Report (original) at Air Force hospitals, medical centers and clinics as part of health record or National Personnel Records Center, Civilian Personnel Records, 111 Winnebago Street, St. Louis, MO 63118. First copy retained at USAF/SAF/HM. Other copies Headquarters Air Force Medical Service Center, major command headquarters, and individual PTUs having Compression Therapy capabilities, Oxygen Sensitivity Tolerance/Pressure Test National Personnel Records Center, at Air Force hospitals, medical centers and clinics as part of health record or Civilian Personnel Records, 111 Winnebago Street, St. Louis, MO 63118.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:

Officers/technicians performing treatments (normally medical doctors, aerospace physiologists/physiological training technicians); patients who are Active duty military personnel, retired Air Force military personnel, dependents of military personnel, dependents of retired military and civilians treated on an emergency basis.'

Categories of records in the system:

'Treatment records of patient and records of personnel conducting treatment. Records of exposure to high pressure profiles are maintained for patient and personnel conducting treatment. Records of training dives are maintained on officers and technicians performing treatment dives as well as their physical capability/tolerance to perform in subsequent treatment dives/procedures.

Authority for maintenance of the system:

10 USC 8012, Secretary of the Air Force: Powers and duties; delegation by; and Chapter 55, Medical and Dental Care, as implemented by Air Force Regulation (AFR) 161-21, Use of Hyperbaric (Compression) Chambers for Therapy and AFR 161-27, Hyperbaric Chamber Operations.

Purpose(s):

Provide an exact record for a patient treated by compression therapy and documents reactions of the patient's response to high pressure. Protects the patient by insuring that overexposure to high pressure does not occur. Records are maintained on persons performing treatments because they are exposed to the same treatment profiles as their patients and to insure their capability of performing treatment and to determine in advance that they are not physically susceptible to potential hazards of treatment. Category of user: Physicians, aerospace physiologists and technicians. Records are also provided to USAF Compression Therapy Center, USAF/AFSC/HM, Brooks Air Force Base, TX and the Air Force Medical Service Center, HQ AFMSC/SGPA, Brooks Air Force Base, Texas for research and statistical analysis, and management effectiveness. Records maintained on technicians/officers conducting procedures are maintained at treatment site to insure overexposure to high pressure does not occur and to determine professional adequacy to participate in treatment dives. Records involving officers/technicians performing treatment are provided MAJCOM/SGP, USAF School of Aerospace Medicine, Hyperbaric Medicine Center (USAF- SAM/HMD) and HQ AFMSC/SGPA for statistical analysis, research and management effectiveness considerations.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:

Records from this system of records may be disclosed for any of the blanket routine uses published by the Air Force.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:

Maintained in file folders and visible file binders/cabinets.

Retrievability:

Patients records filed chronologically by subject.

Safeguards:

Records are accessed by commanders of medical centers and hospitals and by custodian of the record system.

Retention and disposal:

Treatment Records (original) retained in individual health record for fifty years after date of latest document and then destroyed. First copy and other copies at USAFSAM, HQ AFMSC and MAJCOMs retained in office files until superseded, obsolete, no longer needed for reference, or on inactivation, then destroyed. Other copies at PTUs destroyed after 3 years; Compression Chamber Operation Record at PTUs retained in office files until superseded, obsolete, no longer needed for reference, or on inactivation, then destroyed. Compression Chamber Reactor Case Report (original) retained in individual health record for fifty years after date of latest document, then destroyed. First copy at USAFSAM and other copies at HQ AFMSC and MAJCOMs retained in office files until superseded, obsolete, no longer needed for reference, or on inactivation, then destroyed. Copies at PTU retained in office files until superseded, obsolete, no longer needed for reference, or on inactivation, then destroyed. Oxygen Sensitivity Tolerance/Pressure Test retained in individual health record for fifty years after date of latest document, then destroyed. All records are destroyed by tearing into pieces, shredding, pulping, macerating or burning.

System manager(s) and address:

Commander, Air Force Medical Service Center, Brooks Air Force Base, Texas.

Notification procedure:

Requests from individuals should be addressed to the System Manager. Required information for military/ex-military is full name, Social Security number; civilian should provide name, Social Security number, location of treatment, and approximate date of treatment. Requester may visit Air Force Medical Service Center. Proof of identity is by government ID Card for active/retired military, driver's license for civilians.

Record access procedures:

Individual can obtain assistance in gaining access from the System Manager.

Contesting record procedures:

The Air Force's rules for access to records and for contesting and appealing initial determinations by the individual concerned may be obtained from the System Manager.

Record source categories:

Physicians regarding diagnosis/treatment.

Exemptions claimed for the system:

None.

F161 AF SG C

System name:

USAF Master Radiation Exposure Registry.

System location:

USAF Occupational and Environmental Health Laboratory (AFSC), Brooks Air Force Base, TX 78235; Air Force medical centers, hospitals and clinics; Air Force operating locations and installations using sources of ionizing radiation. Official mailing addresses are contained in the Air Force Address Directory.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
All personnel currently enrolled in or having been monitored under the USAF's Personnel Dosimetry Program or on whom the Air Force has performed a bioassay for radioactive materials since 1960. This includes Air Force military and civilian employees; military and civilian employees of other Components and the Department of Defense; and some employees of other federal agencies and civilian contractors.

Categories of records in the system:
Personal radiation dosimetry (film badge or thermoluminescent dosimeter) results in monthly and lifetime cumulative periods and results of bioassays for radioactive materials in the body.

Authority for maintenance of the system:
Section 20.401(a) and (c), Title 10, Chapter I, Code of Federal Regulations (10 CFR 20.401(a)(c)) as directed by Executive Order 12196; 29 CFR 1910.96(b)(10)(i), (n) and (o), implemented by Air Force Regulation (AFR) 161-28, Personnel Dosimetry Program and the USAF Master Radiation Exposure Registry.

Purpose(s):
USAF Occupational and Environmental Health Laboratory (OEHL) maintains a cumulative record of occupational exposure to ionizing radiation on each radiation worker monitored under the USAF's personnel dosimetry program as required by Public Law; to provide a copy of an individual's record to any future employer of the individual; to make a proper request for it as provided for by law; to provide individuals a copy of their Air Force occupational radiation exposure history; to provide information about an individual's ionizing radiation exposure history to medical personnel responsible for radiation safety and the individual's health, care, and education; to provide information about radiation exposures resulting from radiation accidents or incidents to authorized investigators of such events and the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) or Department of Labor, Occupational Safety and Health Administration (DOL/OSHA); for use in epidemiological and statistical studies to determine the effectiveness of Air Force-wide radiological health programs, trends in exposure doses, exposure experiences of selected occupational groups and similar studies. Medical personnel: To determine the requirements for occupational physical examinations and assess whether an individual's medical condition may be related to his or her radiation exposure; to use in formulating recommendations to supervisors on requirements to remove or limit an individual from further work with ionizing radiation sources; to determine the need for investigation of workplace environments for abnormal radiation exposure conditions; to formulate recommendations for modifications of facilities, equipment or procedures to limit workers' radiation exposures to as low as reasonably achievable; to assist in developing worker education programs on local radiation hazards. Employees' supervisors: To determine whether employee can continue to work in a given radiation environment; to determine radiation exposures to personnel associated with a given task; to implement improvements in facilities, equipment, or procedures to reduce worker exposures to as low as reasonably achievable; to assist in local worker education about occupational radiation hazards. Individuals and their representatives: To obtain information or radiological physical examinations and aid in making personal judgments about the occupational radiation exposure received by the worker and his or her family during his or her time in their environment and in fulfilling their individual responsibilities for radiation safety. Investigators of radiation accidents or incidents: To provide information on the possible consequences of such an event and recommended measures to prevent recurrence; to determine the severity of the event and possible long term consequences to individuals involved in it or future similar events. NRC and DOL/OSHA: To use in formulating or enforcing of national policies and regulations for protection of workers from ionizing radiation sources in their occupational environment. Future employers: To use as the basis for continuing the lifetime cumulative record on individuals as required by Public Law and to use for all purposes for which the current employer uses these records.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
Records from this system of records may be disclosed for any of the blanket routine uses published by the Air Force.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:
Storage:
At USAF OEHL, on computer disks and computer paper print-outs; at installation level, on computer paper printouts provided by USAF OEHL.

Retrievability:
Filed by Social Security Number (SSN); retrievable by name or SSN.

Safeguards:
Records at USAF OEHL are accessed by custodian of the record system and persons responsible for servicing the record system in performance of their official duties and are controlled by computer system software and personnel screening. Records at installations are accessed by medical personnel in performance of their official duties. Records are controlled by personnel screening.

Retention and disposal:
Records are permanent at USAF OEHL. Latest cumulative history entered in an individual's medical record is retained for the life of the medical record. Records retained by installation medical personnel and supervisors for one year, then destroyed by tearing into pieces, shredding, pulping, macerating, or burning.

System manager(s) and address:
Air Force Medical Service Center, Aerospace Medicine Consultants Division, Directorate of Professional Services (HQ AFMSC/ SGPA, Brooks Air Force Base, TX 78235).

Notification procedure:
Requests from individuals or persons to whom release of records is authorized should be addressed to USAF OEHL/RZD, Brooks Air Force Base, TX 78235. Information required for identification of an individual record is: Full name, SSN and Service Number(s) if different from SSN. If the request is from other than the individual to whom the records pertain, a signed authorization by the individual to release the records to the requester is required.

Record access procedures:
The Air Force rules for contesting contents and appealing initial determinations are in Air Force Regulation 12-35, and may be obtained from the System Manager.

Contesting record procedures:
The Air Force's rules for access to records and for contesting and appealing initial determinations by the individual concerned may be obtained from the System Manager.

Record source categories:
Information obtained from previous employers; other components and civilian or government agencies responsible for conducting a radiation protection program and personnel dosimetry at an individual's workplace; and medical institutions.

Exemptions claimed for the system:
None.

Active duty and retired Air Force military personnel; Air Force Academy nominees/applicants; family members of military and retired personnel; foreign Nationals residing in the United States; American Red Cross personnel; other DOD civilian employees, Peace Corps and State Department personnel; Exchange Officers.

Categories of records in the system:
Chronological record of all care received in military dental facilities. This is primarily a record of all treatment received on an outpatient basis with supporting documentation such as consultations, dental history, laboratory, and x-ray reports; the record also includes temporary copies of appointment slips and attendance records until entered in the record.

Authority for maintenance of the system:
10 USC, Chapter 55, Medical and Dental Care.

Purpose(s):
Chronological record of patient's dental health while authorized care in a military dental facility. Used by patient for further dental care. Other uses such as insurance requests or compensation claims as specifically authorized by the patient. Used by dentist for further dental care of the patient, research, teaching. Used by other Patient Care Providers within the hospital for further medical/dental care of the patient, research, teaching. Used by Hospital and Dental Staff for evaluation of dental staff performance in the dental care rendered; dental research; teaching; hospital accreditation; preparation of statistical reports. Used by Army-Navy-VA-PHS-any other hospital, clinic, for further dental care of the patient if he is currently undergoing treatment there. Record is released only upon receipt of the patient's signed authorization or a court order. Insurance companies require the patients' written consent for release. Used for establishing insurance benefits or payment of benefits. Used by other Air Force Agencies such as Central Tumor Registry which maintains files on all patients in whom a malignancy has been diagnosed.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:

Records from this system of records may be disclosed for any of the blanket routine uses published by the Air Force. Used by other Federal and State Agencies such as the Veterans' Administration and Department of Labor (workmen's compensation) for adjudication of claims; reporting communicable disease or other conditions required by law, Air Reserve Personnel Center, if reservist; to appropriate state National Guard unit, if National Guard member, to appropriate Veterans Administration Regional Office, if VA claim has been filed. Records of other personnel may be hand delivered or mailed to the next military medical facility at which treatment will be received, or the records are retained at the treating facility for a minimum of 1 year after date of last treatment then retired to NPRC or other designated depository, such as but not limited to, Commandant (G-P) or Coast Guard, DC 20353 for Coast Guard active duty members, Medical Director, American Red Cross, Washington, DC 20006 for Red Cross Personnel.

System manager(s) and address:
The Surgeon General, Headquarters United States Air Force. Assistant Surgeon General for Dental Services USAF; commanders of medical centers, hospitals, clinics, medical aid stations.

Notification procedure:
Requests from individuals should be addressed to the Systems Manager. Complete name, social security number of individual through whom eligibility for care is established, year in which treatment was received, location treatment was received, whether treatment was on an inpatient or outpatient basis. Above SYSMANAGERS or in the case of Air Force medical facilities, the Registrar's office of the hospital. An appropriately signed authorization for the release of the information is required. Individual's complete name and social security number of individual through whom eligibility for care is established.

Record access procedures:
Individual can obtain assistance in gaining access to the Systems Manager. Mailing addresses are in the Department of Defense directory in the appendix to the Air Force's systems notice.

Contesting record procedures:
The Air Force's rules for access to records and for contesting and appealing initial determinations by the individual concerned may be obtained from the Systems Manager.

Dental Personnel Actions.

System location:

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
All individuals who are or have been associated with the Air Force Dental Service.

Categories of records in the system:
General correspondence relating to dental personnel actions; including but not limited to awards and decorations, letters of appreciation or congratulation, favorable or unfavorable communications, recommendation letters, retirement letters, resignation letters, specialty board certificates, chief dentists badge selection board, moonlighting program, military assistance program, Air Force personnel listings, AFSC Prefix Awards (A&W), Dental Consultant program, Uniformed Services University of Health Sciences (USUHS), administration of office personnel.

Authority for maintenance of the system:
10 USC 8012, Secretary of the Air Force; powers and duties, delegation by and 8067(b), Designation; officers to perform certain professional functions.

Purpose(s):
Supporting documentation for Air Staff for establishing policies and procedures on professional personnel activities for the Air Force Dental Service.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
Records from this system of records may be disclosed for any of the blanket routine uses published by the Air Force.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:
Storage: Maintained in file folders, note books/binders, visible file binders/cabinets, card files, on x-ray film, and as photographs.

Retrievability:
Filed by name, Social Security Number (SSN), or Military Service Number.

Safeguards:
Records are accessible by command of medical centers and hospitals, custodian of the record system and by person(s) responsible for servicing the record system in performance of their official duties who are properly screened and cleared for need-to-know. Records are stored in locked cabinets or rooms, protected by guards, and controlled by personnel screening.

Retention and disposal:
Records for military personnel are retained for fifty years after date of last document. For all others, twenty-five years. While on active duty, the Health Record of a US military member is maintained at the dental unit at which the person receives treatment. On separation/retirement the records are forwarded to National Personnel Records Center (NPRC/MPR) or other designated depository, such as Air Reserve Personnel Center, if reservist; to appropriate state National Guard unit, if National Guard member, to appropriate Veterans Administration Regional Office, if VA claim has been filed. Records of other personnel may be hand delivered or mailed to the next military medical facility at which treatment will be received, or the records are retained at the treating facility for a minimum of 1 year after date of last treatment then retired to NPRC or other designated depository, such as but not limited to, Commandant (G-P) or Coast Guard, DC 20353 for Coast Guard active duty members, Medical Director, American Red Cross, Washington, DC 20006 for Red Cross Personnel.

System name: Automated Medical/Dental Record System.

System location: At Air Force medical centers, hospitals and clinics, major command headquarters, and separate operating agency headquarters, Air Force Data Service Center, Air Force Medical Service Center, USAF School of Aerospace Medicine, and USAF School of Health Care Sciences. Official mailing addresses are in the Department of Defense directory in the appendix of the Air Force's Systems notice.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
Any individual who is hospitalized in, is dead on arrival at, or has received medical or dental care at an Air Force medical treatment facility. Individuals who have received medical care at other DOD or civilian medical facilities but whose records are maintained at or processed by Air Force medical facilities. Any military active duty member who is an excused-from-duty status, on quarters, on subsistence elsewhere, on convalescent leave, meets Medical Evaluation Board (MEB) or a Physical Evaluation Board (PEB) on an outpatient basis or who is hospitalized in a non-federal hospital and for whom an Air Force medical facility has assumed administrative responsibility. Any individual who has undergone medical or dental examinations at any Air Force medical facility (or who has undergone medical examinations at other medical facilities and whose records are maintained or processed by the Air Force), e.g., pre-employment examinations and food handlers examinations, or who has otherwise had medical or dental tests performed at any Air Force medical facility.

Categories of records in the system:
Files consist of automated records of treatment received and medical/dental tests performed on an inpatient/outpatient basis in military medical treatment facilities and of military members treated in civilian facilities. These records may include radiographic images and reports, electrocardiographic tracings and reports, laboratory test results and reports, blood gas analysis reports, occupational health records, dental radiographic reports and records, automated cardiac catheterization data and reports, physical examination reports, patient administration and scheduling reports, pharmacy prescriptions and reports, food service reports, hearing conservation tests, cardiovascular fitness examinations and reports, reports of medical waivers granted for flight duty, and other inpatient and outpatient data and reports. They may contain information relating to medical/dental examinations and treatments, inoculations, appointment and scheduling information, and other medical and/or dental information. Subsystems of the Automated Medical/Dental Data System include: Air Force Clinical Laboratory Automation System (AFCLAS)/TRILAB I; Automated Cardiac Catheterization Laboratory System (ACCLS); Computer Assisted Practice of Cardiology (CAPC) System; DATA STAT Pharmacy System (Formerly PROHECA); Occupa- tional Health System; Safety System; Patient Administration and Scheduling System; Pharmacy System; Microfilm Library, and Risk Tabulation (HEART).

Authority for maintenance of the system:
10 USC Chapter 55, Medical and Dental Care.

Purposes:
Used as a record of patient's medical/dental health, diagnosis, and treatment and disposition while authorized care. Used to help determine individual's qualification for duty, for security clearances and for assignments. Used by an individual or his legal representative for further medical care, legal purposes, or other uses such as insurance requests or compensation claims when specifically authorized by the patient. Used by physicians/dentists and other health care providers for further care of the patient, research, teaching, and legal purposes. Used by personnel authorized by the medical care of the patient. Used by insurance companies, (only with the patient's written consent for release); for arbitrating insurance claims. Used by other Federal agencies such as Veterans Administration, Public Health Service or civilian hospitals for continuing medical care of the patient. Used by insurance companies, (only with the patient's written consent for release); for arbitrating insurance claims. Used by other Federal agencies such as Veterans Administration, Public Health Service, and Department of Labor (Workmen's Compensation) for adjudication of claims; for reporting communicable diseases or other conditions required by law to federal and state agencies. Used by Army, Navy, Veterans Administration, Public Health Service or civilian hospitals for continuing medical care of the patient. Used by insurance companies, (only with the patient's written consent for release); for arbitrating insurance claims. Used by other Federal agencies such as Veterans Administration, Public Health Service, and Department of Labor (Workmen's Compensation) for adjudication of claims; for reporting communicable diseases or other conditions required by law. Used to provide input to other DOD medical records systems including the Medical Records System (F168 AF SG C), the Dental Health Records System (F162 AF SG A) and other DOD agencies (e.g., Army and Navy) when such agency is normally by the primary source or repository of medical information about the individual.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
Records from this system of records may be disclosed for any of the blanket routine uses published by the Air Force.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:
Data maintained primarily on magnetic tape or disks. May also be maintained in file folders, on computer paper printouts or punched cards, on roll microfilm or microfiche.

Retrievability:
Filed by Social Security Number (SSN) of the individual or his/her sponsor in combination with the Family Member Prefix (FMP). The FMP describes the relationship of the patient to his sponsor, e.g., second oldest dependent child, spouse, self, etc. May also be retrieved by the individual's name or by other identification or system number (such as hospital, patient, register number, laboratory accession number, or pharmacy prescription number).

Safeguards:
Records are accessed by medical records custodians or other person(s) responsible for maintaining the record system in performance of their official duties, by commanders of Air Force medical treatment facilities or by authorized authorized medical records custodian(s), i.e., administrative employees, Peer Review and Utilization Review committees, etc. Records are controlled by computer system software including the use of pass words or other user identification, and by physical access to the computer and computer terminals. Except when under direct physical control of authorized individuals, records will be stored in locked rooms or in locked cabinets. Records are accessed by authorized personnel who are properly screened and cleared for a need to know.

Retention and disposal:
Computer files are retained for variable lengths of time depending upon the type of information involved and the size and mission of the medical treatment facility. Retention time may vary from one day to ten years. Records are disposed of by erasure of the magnetic computer records and destruction of the computer related worksheets on paper, film, or other media by tearing, shredding, pulping, burning or other destructive methods. Identical medical/dental information may be retained for longer periods of time in other medical records systems such as hospital and outpatient charts, including the Medical Records System (F168 AF SG C) and Dental Health Records (F162 AF SG A).

System manager(s) and address:
Major command and separate operating agency headquarters and Air Force Medical Service Center, commanders of USAF medical centers, hospitals, and clinics, USAF School of Health Care Sciences, Aerospace Medical Division, Brooks AFB, Texas, and the USAF School of Aerospace Medicine, Brooks AFB, Texas. Official mailing addresses are in the Department of Defense directory in the appendix to the Air Force Systems Notice.

Notification procedure:
Requests from individuals should be directed to the System Manager. Requests should include complete name (including maiden name), sponsor's name, Social Security Number or Service Number of person through whom eligibility is established, category of record desired, year in which treatment was provided, whether treatment was inpatient or outpatient. If the individual establishes eligibility through a sponsor other than self, the request should include the relationship to the sponsor, e.g., spouse, second oldest child, parent, etc.

Record access procedures:
Address requests to the System Manager. Official mailing addresses are in the Department of Defense Directory in the appendix to the Department of Air Force's systems notices.

Contesting record procedures:
The Air Force's rules for access to records and for contesting and appealing initial determinations by the individual concerned may be obtained from the System Manager.

Record source categories:
Information is obtained directly from the individual whenever practical and possible, from other individuals when necessary, e.g., when the patient is a child or is in coma, from other medical institutions, from automated systems interfaces, from medical records, and System name: Family Advocacy Program Record.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
All family members entitled to care at Air Force medical and dental facilities whose exceptional medical or educational conditions or family maltreatment is brought to the attention of appropriate authorities and all persons suspected of perpetrating maltreatment.

Categories of records in the system:
Medical records of family members exceptional medical and/or educational needs or suspected and established cases of family maltreatment, investigative reports, correspondence, family advocacy case management team minutes and reports, follow-up and evaluation reports, and any other supportive data assembled relevant to individual family advocacy program records.

Authority for maintenance of the system:

Purpose(s):
In the performance of official duties relating to health and medical treatment of members of the uniformed services, civilians, and dependents receiving medical care under Air Force auspices; performance of research and compilation of data. Data used by other components of the Department of Defense in the performance of official duties relating to the coordination of family advocacy programs, medical care and research concerning family maltreatment and neglect and exceptional educational or medical conditions.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
The Department of the Air Force "Blanket Routine Uses" published at the beginning of the agency's compilation apply to this system.

Disclosure is authorized to any member of the family in whose spouse's name the file is maintained, in furtherance of treating any member of the family.

Used by the Attorney General of the United States or his authorized representatives in connection with litigation, or other matters under the jurisdiction of the Department of Justice.

To officials and employees of the Veterans Administration in the performance of their official duties relating to the adjudication of veterans claims and in providing medical care to members of the Air Force.

To officials and employees of other departments and agencies of the Executive Branch of government upon request in the performance of their official duties relating to the coordination of family advocacy programs, medical care and research concerning family maltreatment and neglect and exceptional educational or medical conditions.

To private organizations (including educational institutions) and individuals for authorized health research in the interest of the Federal and state government and the public. When not considered mandatory, patient identification data shall be eliminated from records used for research studies.

To officials and employees of the National Research Council in cooperative studies of the National History of Disease, of prognosis and of etiology. Each study in which the records of members and former members of the Air Force are used must be approved by the Surgeon General of the Air Force.

To officials and employees of local and state governments and agencies for the performance of their official duties pursuant to the laws and regulations governing local control of communicable diseases, preventive medicine and safety programs, child abuse and other public health and welfare programs.

Used by federal, state, and local governmental agencies when appropriate in the counseling and treatment of individuals or families with exceptional medical or educational needs or when involved in child abuse or neglect.

To authorized surveying bodies for professional certification and accreditations.

To the individual organization or government agency as necessary when required by Federal statute, Executive Order, or by treaty.

Alcohol and Family Advocacy information maintained in connection with Abuse Prevention Programs shall be disclosed only in accordance with applicable statutes.

Note: Records of identity, diagnosis, prognosis or treatment of any client/patient, irrespective of whether or when he/she ceases to be a client/patient, maintained in connection with the performance of any alcohol or drug abuse prevention and treatment function conducted, requested, or directly or indirectly assisted by any department or agency of the United States, shall, except as provided herein, be confidential and be disclosed only for the purposes and under the circumstances expressly authorized in 42 U.S.C. 290dd-3 and 290ee-3. These statutes take precedence over the Privacy Act of 1974 in regard to accessibility of such records except to the individual to whom the record pertains. The Department of the Air Force "Blanket Routine Uses" do not apply to these records.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:
Records may be stored in file folders, microfilm, or computerized or machine readable media.

Retrievability:
Records are retrieved by the Social Security Number of the sponsor or guardian.

Safeguards:
Records are maintained in various kinds of filing equipment in specified monitored or controlled access rooms or areas. Records are accessible only to authorized personnel that are properly screened and trained, and on a need-to-know basis only. Computer terminals are placed in supervised areas with access controlled by password or other user code system.

Retention and disposal:
Retained in office files for five years after the end of the year in which case was closed, retired to National Personnel Record Center (Cleveland), 111 Winnebago Street, St. Louis, Missouri 63118-2001 for an additional 20 years.

System manager(s) and address:
The Surgeon General; Headquarters Air Force Office of Medical Support; Major Command Surgeons; commanders of medical centers, hospitals, and clinics. Official mailing addresses are published as an appendix to the Air Force's compilation of systems notices.

Notification procedure:
Individuals seeking to determine whether this system of records contains information about themselves should address inquiries to the Family Advocacy Office at Air Force hospitals, medical centers and clinics.

Requests should include name, Social Security Number of sponsor, and location of incident. Official mailing addresses are published as an appendix to the Air Force's compilation of systems notices.

Record access procedures:
Individuals seeking access to records about themselves contained in this system of records should address inquiries to the Patient Affairs Office at Air Force medical treatment facilities. Official mailing addresses are published as an appendix to the Air Force's compilation of systems notices.

Contesting record procedures:
The Air Force rules for access to records and for contesting and appealing initial agency determinations by the individual concerned are published in Air Force Regulation 12-35; 2 CFR part 80b; or may be obtained from the system manager.

Record source categories:

Individual to whom the record pertains, reports from physicians and other medical department personnel; reports and information from sources including educational institutions, medical institutions, law enforcement agencies, public and private health and welfare agencies, and witnesses.

Exemptions claimed for the system:
Parts of this system may be exempt under 5 U.S.C. 552a (k)(2) and (k)(5), as applicable. For additional information contact the system manager.

REQUESTING RECORDS

Records are retrieved by name or by some other personal identifier. It is therefore especially important for expeditious service when requesting a record that particular attention be provided to the Notification and/or Access Procedures of the particular record system involved so as to furnish the required personal identifiers, or any other pertinent personal information as may be required to locate and retrieve the record.

BLANKET ROUTINE USES

Certain blanket ‘routine uses’ of the records have been established that are applicable to every record system maintained within the Department of Defense unless specifically stated otherwise within a particular record system. These additional blanket routine uses of the record system notices in this section substitute for the individual record system notices begin rather than repeating them in every individual record system.

ROUTINE USE-LAW ENFORCEMENT

In the event that a system of records maintained by this component to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or by regulation, rule or order issued thereunder, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether Federal, state, local, or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE WHEN REQUESTING INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to a Federal, state, or local agency maintaining civil, criminal, or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to a component decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF REQUESTED INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to a Federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

ROUTINE USE-Congressional

Inquiries from a system of records maintained by this component may be made to a Congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the Congressional office made at the request of that individual.

ROUTINE USE-PRIVATE RELIEF LEGISLATION

Relevant information contained in all systems of records of the Department of Defense published on or before August 22, 1975, may be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURES REQUIRED BY INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed, in the foreign law enforcement, security, investigatory, or administrative authorities in order to comply with requirements imposed by, or to claim rights conferred by, international agreements and arrangements including those regulating the stationing and status in foreign countries of Department of Defense military and civilian personnel.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE TO STATE AND LOCAL TAXING AUTHORITIES

Any information normally contained in IRS Form W-2 which is maintained in a record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to state and local taxing authorities with which the Secretary of the Treasury has entered into agreements pursuant to Title 5, U.S. Code, Sections 5516, 5517, 5520, and only to those state and local taxing authorities for which an employee or military member is or was subject to tax regardless of whether tax is or was withheld. This routine use is in accordance with Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual Bulletin Nr. 76-07.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO THE OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

A record from a system of records subject to the Privacy Act and maintained by this component may be disclosed to the Office of Personnel Management concerning information on pay and leave, benefits, retirement deductions, and any other information necessary for the Office of Personnel Management to carry out its legally authorized Government-wide personnel management functions and studies.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE TO THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE FOR LITIGATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to any component of the Department of Justice for the purpose of representing the Department of Defense, or any officer, employee or member of the Department in pending or potential litigation to which the record is pertinent.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE TO MILITARY BANKING FACILITIES OVERSEAS

Information as to current military addresses and assignments may be provided to military banking facilities who provide banking services overseas and who are reimbursed by the Government for certain checking and loan losses. For personnel separated, discharged, or retired from the Armed Forces, information as to last known residential or home of record address may be provided to the military banking facility upon certification by a banking facility officer that the facility has a returned or dishonored check negotiated by the individual or the individual has defaulted on a loan and that if restitution is not made by the individual, the U.S. Government will be liable for the losses the facility may incur.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO THE GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION (GSA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the General Services Administration (GSA) for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION (NARA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE TO THE MERIT SYSTEMS PROTECTION BOARD

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the Merit Systems Protection Board, including the Office of the Special Counsel for the purpose of litigation, including administrative proceedings, appeals, special studies of the civil service and other merit systems, review of OPM or component rules and regulations, investigation of alleged or possible prohibited personnel practices; including administrative proceedings involving any individual subject of a DoD investigation, and such other functions, promulgated in 5 U.S.C 1205 and 1206, or as may be authorized by law.

ROUTINE USE-COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PURPOSES

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use outside the DoD or the U.S.
Government for the purpose of counterintelligence activities authorized by U.S. Law or Executive Order or for the purpose of enforcing laws which protect the national security of the United States.

Records are retrieved by the borrower's name, Social Security Number, or the title of the library material borrowed.

Safeguards:
Only the library staff has access to the retrieval system and to the passwords for operating this system. The system is locked off at the close of business.

Retention and disposal:
Once a borrower has registered with the library, the borrower remains registered until he/she leaves the Agency. Disposal of records is accomplished by deletion from the database.

System manager(s) and address:

Notification procedure:
Individuals seeking to determine whether this system of records contains information about themselves should address written inquiries to the Chief, Office of Policy, National Security Agency/Central Security Service, Ft. George G. Meade, MD 20755-6000. Inquiries should contain full name, Social Security Number, and mailing address.

Record access procedures:
Individuals seeking access to records about themselves contained in this system should address written inquiries to the Chief, Office of Policy, National Security Agency/Central Security Service, Ft. George G. Meade, MD 20755-6000. The inquiry should include the individual's full name, Social Security Number, and mailing address.

Contesting record procedures:
NSA/CSS rules for contesting record contents and appealing any adverse initial Agency determinations are contained in NSA/CSS Regulation No. 10-35; 32 CFR part 299a, or may be obtained by writing to the Chief, Office of Policy, National Security Agency/Central Security Service, Ft. George G. Meade, MD 20755-6000.

Record source categories:
Contents of the record are obtained from the individual borrower and library staff.

Exemptions claimed for the system:
Portions of this file may be exempt under 5 U.S.C. 552a (k)(1) and (k)(4).

An exemption rule for this record system has been promulgated in accordance with the requirements of 5 U.S.C. 553 (b)(1), (2) and (3), (c) and (e) and is published in NSA/CSS Regulation No. 10-35 and the Code of Federal Regulations at 32 CFR part 299a.

Record source categories:
Contents of the record are obtained from the individual about whom the record pertains, from administrative personnel and computer system administrators, and a self-generated computer program.

Exemptions claimed for the system:
Portions of this file may be exempt pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a (k)(1) and (k)(2).

An exemption rule for this record system has been promulgated in accordance with the requirements of 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(1), (2) and (3), (c) and (e) and is published in NSA/CSS Regulation No. 10–35 and 32 CFR part 299a.

GNSA16

System name:
NSA/CSS Drug Testing Program.

System location:

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
NSA/CSS applicants for employment and employees tested for the use of illegal drugs.

Categories of records in the system:
The user’s name, Social Security Number, an assigned identification (ID) code, organization, work phone number, and records relating to the selection, notification, and testing of covered individuals as well as urine specimens and drug test results and other related information.

Authority for maintenance of the system:

5 U.S.C. 7301 and 7361; Executive Orders 12564, "Drug-Free Federal Workplace" and 9397.

Purpose(s):
The system is used to maintain NSA/CSS Drug Program Coordinator records on the selection, notification, and testing (i.e., urine specimens, drug test results, chain of custody records, etc.) of employees and applicants for employment for illegal drug use.

Records contained in this system are also used by the employee's Medical Review Official; the administrator of any Employee Assistance Program in which the employee is receiving counseling or treatment or is otherwise participating; and supervisory or management officials within the employee's Agency having authority to take adverse personnel action against such employee.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:

In order to comply with provisions of 5 U.S.C. 7301, NSA/CSS "Blanket Routine Uses" do not apply to this system of records.

To a court of competent jurisdiction where required by the United States Government to defend against any challenge against any adverse personnel action.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:
Computer data base (floppy or hard drive or magnetic tape) or paper printout of stored information, microfilm or microfiche.

Retrievability:
Records are retrieved by the user’s name, Social Security Number, or assigned identification (ID) code.

Safeguards:
For paper computer printouts and microfilm/microfiche-secured limited access facilities, within those facilities secure limited access rooms within those facilities lockable containers. Access to information is limited to those individuals specifically authorized and granted access by the Deputy Director for Administration. For records on the computer system, access is controlled by a password and limited to authorized personnel only.

Retention and disposal:
Records are retained for two years and then destroyed by shredding, burning or erasure in the case of magnetic media.

System manager(s) and address:

Notification procedure:
Individuals seeking to determine whether this system of records contains information about themselves should address written inquiries to the Chief, Office of Policy, National Security Agency/Central Security Service, Ft. George G. Meade, MD 20755–6000.

The inquiry should contain the individual’s full name, Social Security Number and mailing address.

Record access procedures:
Individuals seeking access to information about themselves contained in this system of records should address written inquiries to the Chief, Office of Policy, National Security Agency/Central Security Service, Ft. George G. Meade, MD 20755–6000.

Contesting record procedures:
NSA/CSS rules for accessing records and for contesting record contents and appealing any adverse initial NSA/CSS determinations are contained in NSA/CSS Regulation No. 10–35; 32 CFR part 299a; or may be obtained by writing to the Chief, Office of Policy, National Security Agency/Central Security Service, Ft. George G. Meade, MD 20755–6000.

Record source categories:
Contents of the record are obtained from the individual about whom the record pertains, from laboratories that test urine specimens for the presence of illegal drugs, from supervisors and managers and other NSA/CSS employees, from confidential sources, and from other sources as appropriate and required.

Exemptions claimed for the system:
Portions of this file may be exempt pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(1).

An exemption rule for this record system has been promulgated in accordance with the requirements of 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(1), (2) and (3), (c) and (e) and is published in NSA/CSS Regulation No. 10–35 and 32 CFR part 299a.
System name: NSA/CSS Employee Assistance Service (EAS) Case Records.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
- NSA/CSS civilian employees, military assignees, applicants, retirees, and family members who are referred, or voluntarily request counseling assistance. Civilian counselors to whom cases are referred.

Categories of records in the system:
- Files consist of the case records compiled by counselors, questionnaires completed by patients, questionnaires completed by private counselors to whom clients are referred, the records of medical treatment and services, correspondence with personal physicians, NSA/CSS Medical Center reports, results of psychological assessment testing and interviews, psychiatric examination results and related reports.

Authority for maintenance of the system:

Purpose(s):
- Used by counselors to facilitate and record treatment, referral and follow-up on behalf of employees.

Routine use of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
- NSA/CSS's "Blanket Routine Uses" do not apply to this system of records.

Law enforcement agencies to carry out their functions when a record indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether Federal, state, local, or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

To a Federal, state, or local agency maintaining civil, criminal, or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to a component decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

To a Federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance or in reporting an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

To the Congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the Congressional office made at the request of that individual.

To the Office of Personnel Management concerning information on pay and leave, benefits, retirement deductions, and any other information necessary for the Office of Personnel Management to carry out its legally authorized, Government-wide personnel management functions and studies.

To any component of the Department of Justice for the purpose of representing the Department of Defense, or any officer, employee or member of the Department in pending or potential litigation to which the record is pertinent.

To the Merit Systems Protection Board, including the Office of the Special Counsel for the purpose of litigation, including administrative proceeding, appeals, special studies of the civil service and other merit systems, review of OPM or component rules and regulations, investigation of alleged or possible prohibited personnel practices; including administrative proceedings involving any individual subject of a DoD investigation, and such other functions, promulgated in 5 U.S.C. 1205 and 1206, or as may be authorized by law.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:
- Paper records in file folders, magnetic tape, disk, or other computer storage media, computer listings and data bases.

Records are retrieved by the user's name, Social Security Number, assigned identification (ID) code or specific subject matter data elements.

Safeguards:
- Secure limited access facilities and within these facilities lockable containers. Records are accessible only to authorized personnel. For machine records stored on magnetic tape, disk, or other computer storage, terminals are secured and require passwords only available to authorized users.

Retention and disposal:
- Records of clients who will be retained at the Employee Assistance Service facility for three years after case closure, retained for five additional years in the Agency storage facility, then destroyed.
- Records of clients who retire or separate within three years of case closing will be retained at the Employee Assistance Service facility for a year after the date of separation or retirement, then stored for five years in the Agency storage facility, then destroyed.
- Records of counselors to whom cases are referred will be destroyed at the same time that the counselors are removed from the referral list.

System manager(s) and address:

Notification procedure:
- Individuals seeking to determine whether this system of records contains information about themselves should address written inquiries to the Chief, Office of Policy, National Security Agency/Central Security Service, Ft. George G. Meade, MD 20755–6000. The inquiry should contain the individual's full name, Social Security Number and mailing address.

Record access procedures:

DEFENSE NUCLEAR AGENCY

REQUESTING RECORDS
Records are retrieved by name or by some other personal identifier. It is therefore especially important for expeditious service when requesting a record that particular attention be provided to the Notification and/or Access Procedures of the particular record system involved so as to furnish the required personal identifier, or any other pertinent personal information as may be required to locate and retrieve the record.

BLANKET ROUTINE USES
Certain blanket 'routine uses' of the records have been established that are applicable to every record system maintained within the Department of Defense unless specifically stated otherwise within a particular record system. These additional blanket routine uses of the records are published below only once in the interest of simplicity, economy and to avoid redundancy before the individual record system notices begin rather than repeating them in every individual record system.

In the event that a system of records maintained by this component to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising from a general statute, regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether Federal, state, local, or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE WHEN REQUESTING INFORMATION
A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to a Federal, state, or local agency maintaining civil, criminal, or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to a component decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF REQUESTED INFORMATION
A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to a Federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

ROUTINE USE-CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRIES
Disclosure from a system of records maintained by this component may be made to a Congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the Congressional office made at the request of that individual.

ROUTINE USE-PRIVATE RELIEF LEGISLATION
Relevant information contained in all systems of records of the Department of Defense published on or before August 22, 1975, may be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURES REQUIRED BY INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS
A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to foreign law enforcement, security, investigatory, or administrative authorities in order to comply with requirements imposed by, or to claim rights conferred in, international agreements and arrangements including those regulating the stationing and status in foreign countries of Department of Defense military and civilian personnel.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE TO STATE AND LOCAL TAXING AUTHORITIES
Any information normally contained in IRS Form W-2 which is maintained in a record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to state and local taxing authorities with which the Secretary of the Treasury has entered into agreements pursuant to Title 5, U.S. Code, Sections 5516, 5517, 5520, and only to those state and local taxing authorities for which an employee or military member is or was subject to tax regardless of whether tax is or was witheld. This routine use is in accordance with Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual Bulletin Nr. 76-07.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO THE OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT
A record from a system of records subject to the Privacy Act and maintained by this component may be disclosed to the Office of Personnel Management concerning information on pay and leave, benefits, retirement deductions, and any other information necessary for the Office of Personnel Management to carry out its legally authorized Government-wide personnel management functions and studies.

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to any component of the Department of Justice for the purpose of representing the Department of Defense, or any officer, employee or member of the Department in pending or potential litigation to which the record is pertinent.

Information as to current military addresses and assignments may be provided to military banking facilities who provide banking services overseas and who are reimbursed by the Government for certain checking and loan losses. For personnel separated, discharged, or retired from the Armed Forces, information as to last known residential or home of record address may be provided to the military banking facility upon certification by a banking facility officer that the facility has a returned or dishonored check negotiated by the individual or the individual has defaulted on a loan and that if restitution is not made by the individual, the U.S. Government will be liable for the losses the facility may incur.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO THE GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION (GSA)
A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the General Services Administration (GSA) for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION (NARA)
A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE TO THE MERIT SYSTEMS PROTECTION BOARD
A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the Merit Systems Protection Board, including the Office of Special Counsel for the purpose of litigation, including administrative proceedings, appeals, special studies of the civil service and other merit systems, review of OPM or component rules and regulations, investigation of alleged or possible prohibited personnel practices, including administrative proceedings involving any individual subject of a DoD investigation, and such other functions, promulgated in 5 U.S.C 1205 and 1206, as may be authorized by law.

ROUTINE USE-COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PURPOSES
A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use outside the DoD or the U.S.
Government for the purpose of counterintelligence activities authorized by U.S. Law or Executive Order or for the purpose of enforcing laws which protect the national security of the United States.

Records may be used by authorized contractors for the collection process; assigned Medical Review Officers; the Administrator of any Employee Assistance Program in which the employee is receiving counseling or treatment or is otherwise participating; and agency supervisory or management officials having authority to take adverse personnel action against such employee when test results are positive.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
In order to comply with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 7301, the Defense Nuclear Agency "Blanket Routine Uses" published at the beginning of DNA's compilation of systems of records notices do not apply to this system of records.

Records may be released to a court of competent jurisdiction when required by the United States Government to defend against a challenge to related adverse personnel action.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving; accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:
Paper records are maintained in file folders. Electronic records exist on magnetic tape, diskette, or other machine readable media.

Retrievability:
Records are retrieved by employee or applicant name and/or social security number.

Safeguards:

Paper records are stored in a locked file cabinet or are locked in a combination safe when not being used. Electronic records are accessed on computer terminals in supervised areas using a system with password access safeguards. All employee and applicants records are maintained and used with the highest regard for employee and applicant privacy. Only persons on a need-to-know basis and trained in the handling of information protected by Privacy Act have access to the system.

Retention and disposal:
Files on applicants for positions are maintained for a period not to exceed six months.

Files on employees are retained for two years. In instances of a positive test finding resulting in the reassignment or separation of an employee, files are destroyed two years after the case is closed.

System manager(s) and address:
Drug Program Coordinator, Civilian Personnel Management Division, Headquarters, Defense Nuclear Agency, 6801 Telegraph Road, Alexandria, VA 22310-3398.

Notification procedure:
Individuals seeking to determine whether this system of records contains information about themselves should address written inquiries to the Drug Program Coordinator, Civilian Personnel Management Division, Headquarters, Defense Nuclear Agency, 6801 Telegraph Road, Alexandria, VA 22310-3398.

The request should contain the full name, Social Security Number, and the notarized signature of the subject individual.

Record access procedures:
Individuals seeking access to records about themselves contained in this system of records should address written inquiries to the Drug Program Coordinator, Civilian Personnel Management Division, Headquarters, Defense Nuclear Agency, 6801 Telegraph Road, Alexandria, VA 22310-3398.

The request should contain the full name, Social Security Number, and the notarized signature of the subject individual.

Contesting record procedures:
The Defense Nuclear Agency's rules for contesting contents and appealing initial agency determinations are published in DNA Instruction 5400.11A; 3 CFR part 291a; or may be obtained from the system manager.

Exemptions claimed for the system:
None.
ORGANIZATION OF THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF

REQUESTING RECORDS

Records are retrieved by name or by some other personal identifier. It is therefore especially important for expeditious service when requesting a record that particular attention be provided to the Notification and/or Access Procedures of the particular record system involved so as to furnish the required personal identifiers, or any other pertinent personal information as may be required to locate and retrieve the record.

BLANKET ROUTINE USES

Certain blanket 'routine uses' of the records have been established that are applicable to every record system maintained within the Department of Defense unless specifically stated otherwise within a particular record system. These additional blanket routine uses of the records are published below only once in the interest of simplicity, economy and to avoid redundancy before the individual record system notices begin rather than repeating them in every system.

ROUTINE USE-LAW ENFORCEMENT

In the event that a system of records maintained by this component to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and when processing by general statute or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether Federal, state, local, or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE WHEN REQUESTING INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to a Federal, state, or local agency maintaining civil, criminal, or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to a component decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF REQUESTED INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to a Federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

ROUTINE USE-CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRIES

Disclosure from a system of records maintained by this component may be made to a Congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the Congressional office made at the request of that individual.

ROUTINE USE-PRIVATE RELIEF LEGISLATION

Relevant information contained in all systems of records of the Department of Defense published on or before August 22, 1975, may be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURES REQUIRED BY INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to foreign law enforcement, security, investigatory, or administrative authorities in order to comply with requirements imposed by, or to claim rights conferred on, international agreements and arrangements including those regulating the stationing and status in foreign countries of Department of Defense military and civilian personnel.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE TO STATE AND LOCAL TAXING AUTHORITIES

Any information normally contained in IRS Form W-2 which is maintained in a record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to state and local taxing authorities with which the Secretary of the Treasury has entered into agreements pursuant to Title 5, U.S. Code, Sections 5516, 5517, 5520, and only to those state and local taxing authorities for which an employee or military member tax subject to withholding. This routine use is in accordance with Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual Bulletin Nr. 76-07.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO THE OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

A record from a system of records subject to the Privacy Act and maintained by this component may be disclosed to the Office of Personnel Management concerning information on pay and leave, benefits, retirement deductions, and any other information necessary for the Office of Personnel Management to carry out its legally authorized Government-wide personnel management functions and studies.

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to any component of the Department of Justice for the purpose of representing the Department of Defense, any military employee or member of the Department in pending or potential litigation to which the record is pertinent.

Information as to current military addresses and assignments may be provided to military banking facilities who provide banking services overseas and who are reimbursed by the Government for certain checking and loan losses. For personnel separated, discharged, or retired from the Armed Forces, information as to last known residential or home of record address may be provided to the military banking facility upon certification by a banking facility officer that the facility has a returned or dishonored check negotiated by the individual or the individual has defaulted on a loan and that if restitution is not made by the individual, the U.S. Government will be liable for the losses the facility may incur.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO THE GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION (GSA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the General Services Administration (GSA) for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION (NARA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component as a routine use to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

JOJO5CSRIS

System name:
Command Resources Information System (CRIS).

System location:
Intelligence Center Pacific, Box 38, Camp H.M. Smith, Hawaii 96861.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
All DoD and DoD affiliated personnel, military and civilian including spouse, working in or assigned to the Intelligence Center Pacific (IPAC).

Categories of records in the system:
Personal information consisting of the individual's name, social security number, rank and grade, employment and work history data, home phone, address and name of spouse.

Authority for maintenance of the system:

Purpose(s):
This consolidated automated personnel system consisting of all information required to satisfy reporting and recordkeeping requirements identified in regulations and directives by the Military Services, the JCS civilian support offices and IPAC is used by management personnel of the Consolidated Civilian Personnel (CCPO) and various military personnel offices to satisfy reporting requirements. It is also used for internal recordkeeping requirements and policies such as award nominations, phone listings, alert/recall rosters, status and efficiency reports, training, budgetary and fiscal reports, and to provide for verification and update of previously provided information and summary descriptive statistical or analytical management information.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
Records from this system of records may be disclosed for any of the blanket routine uses published by the organization of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:
Storage:
Paper records in the file folders; computer floppy and hard disks in secure facility.

Retrievability:
Paper file records retrieved by name. Computer records retrieved by name, SSN, organizational location, billet number.

Safeguards:
Paper records are stored in locked horizontal and vertical cabinets in a limited access area of the IPAC. The computer hardware, disks, and other materials are secured in locked cabinets and desks in a controlled and guarded area. All records are located in a Secure Compartmented Information Facility (SCIF) and adjacent secure work areas. Computer access is via controlled dial in and is password controlled. Passwords are changed semiannually or upon the departure of any person knowing the password. The automated system is operated by IPAC, and only personnel with an official need to know are given the password and user identification information needed to access the computer system. While the file is primarily indexed by social security number (SSN) and name, any combination of fields and data can be used to select individual records.

Retention and disposal:
Paper records are retained until transferred to computer data bases and then destroyed. Computer printouts are destroyed after use as working papers. Magnetic disks are retained until they are no longer required for reference, then erased.

REQUESTING RECORDS

Records are retrieved by name or by some other personal identifier. It is therefore especially important for expeditious service when requesting a record that particular attention be provided to the Notification and/or Access Procedures of the particular record system involved so as to furnish the required personal identifiers, or any other pertinent personal information as may be required to locate and retrieve the record.

BLANKET ROUTINE USES

Certain blanket 'routine uses' of the records have been established that are applicable to every record system maintained within the Department of Defense unless specifically stated otherwise within a particular record system. These additional blanket routine uses of the records are published below only once in the interest of simplicity, economy and to avoid redundance before the individual record system notices begin rather than repeating them in every individual record system.

ROUTINE USE-LAW ENFORCEMENT

In the event that a system of records maintained by this component to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether Federal, state, local, or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE WHEN REQUESTING INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to a Federal, state, or local agency maintaining civil, criminal, or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to a component decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license; grant or other benefit.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF REQUESTED INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to a Federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

ROUTINE USE-CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRIES

Disclosure from a system of records maintained by this component may be made to a Congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the Congressional office made at the request of that individual.

ROUTINE USE-PRIVATE RELIEF LEGISLATION

Relevant information contained in all systems of records of the Department of Defense published on or before August 22, 1975, may be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURES REQUIRED BY INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to foreign law enforcement, security, investigative, or administrative authorities in order to comply with requirements imposed by, or to claim rights conferred in, international agreements and arrangements including those regulating the stationing and status in foreign countries of Department of Defense military and civilian personnel.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE TO STATE AND LOCAL TAXING AUTHORITIES

Any information normally contained in IRS Form W-2 which is maintained in a record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to state and local taxing authorities with which the Secretary of the Treasury has entered into agreements pursuant to Title 5, U.S. Code, Sections 5516, 5517, 5520, and only to those state and local taxing authorities for which an employee or military member is or was subject to tax regardless of whether tax is or was withheld. This routine use is in accordance with Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual Bulletin Nr. 76-07.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO THE OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

A record from a system of records subject to the Privacy Act and maintained by this component may be disclosed to the Office of Personnel Management concerning information on pay and leave, benefits, retirement deductions, and any other information necessary for the Office of Personnel Management to carry out its legally authorized Government-wide personnel management functions and studies.

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to any component of the Department of Justice for the purpose of representing the Department of Defense, or any officer, employee or member of the Department in pending or potential litigation to which the record is pertinent.

Information as to current military addresses and assignments may be provided to military banking facilities who provide banking services overseas and who are reimbursed by the Government for certain checking and loan losses. For personnel separated, discharged, or retired from the Armed Forces, information as to last known residential or home of record address may be provided to the military banking facility upon certification by a banking facility officer that the facility has a returned or dishonored check negotiated by the individual or that the individual has defaulted on a loan and that if restitution is not made by the individual, the U.S. Government will be liable for the losses the facility may incur.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO THE GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION (GSA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the General Services Administration (GSA) for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION (NARA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE TO THE MERIT SYSTEMS PROTECTION BOARD

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the Merit Systems Protection Board, including the Office of the Special Counsel for the purpose of litigation, including administrative proceedings, appeals, special studies of the civil service and other merit systems, review of OPM or component rules and regulations, investigation of alleged or possible prohibited personnel practices; including administrative proceedings involving any individual subject of a DoD investigation, and such other functions, promulgated in 5 U.S.C 1205 and 1206, or as may be authorized by law.

ROUTINE USE-COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PURPOSES

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use outside the DoD or the U.S. Government for the purpose of counterintelligence activities authorized by U.S. Law or Executive Order or for the purpose of enforcing laws which protect the national security of the United States.

Purpose(s):

System name:
Education, Training, and Career Development Data System.

System location:

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
All military and civilian personnel currently or formerly assigned to or employed by the DCA.

Categories of records in the system:
System contains individual career development plans (for civilians only); education and training historical data; applications for training funded, sponsored, or arranged by DCA; evaluations (by the trainee) of education or training received; applications for programs for which candidates are competitively selected; for example senior milit-tary service schools and other long-term training; agreements to continue government service in return for training received; and supervisor evaluations of the results of training given to their employees.

Authority for maintenance of the system:
Federal Personnel Manual, Chapter 410 "Training:"
Purpose(s):
Used by supervisors and training specialists for career development planning and for determining appropriate training for individuals. Also used to determine an individual's eligibility for training and to justify education and training courses and their associated expenditures.
Used by managers in the DCA and by training specialists to determine agency training needs and the ability of specific courses to satisfy those needs. Also used to determine results and accomplishments of the DCA training programs (often presented in statistical form for this purpose).
Used by Career Development Specialists to prepare reports of training for the Civil Service Commission and for DoD.
Used by DCA procurement personnel and DCA legal staff as the basis for supporting or enforcing legal obligations, such as payment of tuition and fees, reimbursement of trainee's expenses, contractual obligations, or continued-service agreement.
Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
See 'BLANKET ROUTINE USES' set forth at the beginning of DCA's listing of records.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:
Storage:
Paper records in file folders and punched cards.
Retrievability:
Retrieved by name or SSAN.

Safeguards:
System is in building which uses security guards to control access to the building. Only authorized personnel are allowed access to the building. Files are kept in standard drawer-type filing cabinets.

Retention and disposal:
Individual records are maintained as long as the individual is employed by or assigned to the DCA. After a person leaves the DCA, his/her individual files are destroyed within one year of the departure.
Consolidated reports may be maintained for as long as five (5) years before they are destroyed.

System manager(s) and address:
Assistant to the Director for Personnel, Code 700, Hq, DCA.

Notification procedure:
Persons currently assigned to or employed by the DCA Headquarters or DCA Field Activities in the Washington Metropolitan Area, and all personnel formerly assigned to or employed by DCA Headquarters or any DCA Field Activities may obtain information from:
Assistant to the Director for Personnel
Defense Communications Agency
8th St. & South Court House Road
Arlington, Virginia 22204

Persons currently assigned to or employed by DCA Field Activities outside the Washington Metropolitan Area may obtain information from the commander of their activity.

Requests for information must contain name, SSAN, DCA activity to which assigned, and dates employed by or assigned to DCA.
Proof of identity. For those appearing in person as an employee's ID card, driver's license, passport, or similar identification which contains both the name and a photograph of the individual. Proof of identity for individuals not appearing in person will be a notarized statement certifying that the person requesting the information has been identified by the nortry public by means of an employee ID card, driver's license, passport, or other identification containing both the name and a photograph of the individual.

Record access procedures:
Contact the Assistant to the Director for Personnel for information concerning access to individual records. The official mailing address is in the Department of Defense Directory, in the appendix to the DCA systems notice.

Contesting record procedures:
The Agency's rules for access to records and for contesting contents and appealing initial determinations by the individual concerned may be obtained from the SYSMANAGER.

Addendum to DCA Station List Directory
The Director, DCA is also the Manager, National Communications Systems (NCS), and the Director, Worldwide Military Command and Communications System (WWMCCS) Systems Engineering. To the extent that the Director, DCA performs these other functions, the records systems described herein pertain to and are available to employees of these organizations and may be corrected by means of the same process described for DCA files systems, unless specified otherwise herein.

* The official military personnel records of military personnel assigned to DCA are maintained by the parent department and that department has the only complete official copies of the military members personnel records file. Responsibility for the completeness and accuracy of these files is invested in the military department. While the DCA commander or office chief may assist the military members in obtaining access or making corrections, DCA does not have the authority either to grant access or make corrections. The documents maintained by DCA on military personnel are nomination process, copies of personnel correspondence generated during the members tenure in DCA, promotion rosters furnished by the military departments, and copies of orders published by the departments. A few documents are maintained as a result of requirements imposed by the departments (leave forms for Army, Navy and Air Force personnel and SIDPERS for Army personnel).
DEFENSE INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

REQUESTING RECORDS

Records are retrieved by name or by some other personal identifier. It is therefore especially important for expeditious service when requesting a record that particular attention be provided to the Notice and/or Access Procedures of the particular record system involved so as to furnish the required personal identifiers, or any other pertinent personal information as may be required to locate and retrieve the record.

BLANKET ROUTINE USES

Certain blanket 'routine uses' of the records have been established that are applicable to every record system maintained within the Department of Defense unless specifically stated otherwise within a particular record system. These additional blanket routine uses of the records are published below only once in the interest of simplicity, economy and to avoid redundancy before the individual record system notices begin rather than repeating them in every individual record system.

ROUTINE USE-LAW ENFORCEMENT

In the event that a system of records maintained by this component to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising under general statute or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether Federal, state, local, or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE WHEN REQUESTING INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to a Federal, state, or local agency maintaining civil, criminal, or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to a component decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF REQUESTED INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to a Federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

ROUTINE USE-CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRIES

Disclosure from a system of records maintained by this component may be made to a Congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the Congressional office made at the request of that individual.

ROUTINE USE-PRIVATE RELIEF LEGISLATION

Relevant information contained in all systems of records of the Department of Defense published on or before August 22, 1975, may be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth inOMB Circular A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURES REQUIRED BY INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to foreign law enforcement, security, investigatory, or administrative authorities in order to comply with requirements imposed by, or to claim rights conferred in, international agreements and arrangements including those regulating the stationing and status in foreign countries of Department of Defense military and civilian personnel.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE TO STATE AND LOCAL TAXING AUTHORITIES

Any information normally contained in IRS Form W-2 which is maintained in a record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to local and taxing authorities with which the Secretary of the Treasury has entered into agreements pursuant to Title 5, U.S. Code, Sections 5516, 5517, 5520, and only to those state and local taxing authorities for which an employee or military member is or was subject to tax regardless of whether tax is or was withheld. This routine use is in accordance with Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual Bulletin Nr. 76-07.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO THE OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

A record from a system of records subject to the Privacy Act and maintained by this component may be disclosed to the Office of Personnel Management concerning information on pay and leave, benefits, retirement deductions, and any other information necessary for the Office of Personnel Management to carry out its legally authorized Government-wide personnel management functions and studies.

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to any component of the Department of Justice for the purpose of representing the Department of Defense, or any officer, employee, or member of the Department in pending or potential litigation to which the record is pertinent.

Information as to current military addresses and assignments may be provided to military banking facilities who provide banking services overseas and who are reimbursed by the Government for certain checking and loan losses. For personnel separated, discharged, or retired from the Armed Forces, information is available from the Armed Forces Retirement Home or the Department of Veterans Affairs. Any individual or the individual's representative who disputes the accuracy or completeness of information in the record may request that an investigation be made of the record and that the report of the investigation be placed in the record.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO THE GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION (GSA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the General Services Administration (GSA) for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION (NARA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE TO THE MERIT SYSTEMS PROTECTION BOARD

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the Merit Systems Protection Board, including the Office of the Special Counsel for the purpose of litigation, including administrative proceedings, appeals, special studies of the civil service and other merit systems, review of OPM rules and regulations, investigation of alleged or possible prohibited personnel practices, including administrative proceedings involving any individual subject of a DoD investigation, and such other functions, promulgated in 5 U.S.C. 1205 and 1206, or as may be authorized by law.

ROUTINE USE-COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PURPOSES

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use outside the DoD or the U.S.
Government for the purpose of counterintelligence activities authorized by U.S. Law or Executive Order or for the purpose of enforcing laws which protect the national security of the United States.

LDIA0005

System name: Personnel Management Information System (PMIS).

System location: Defense Intelligence Agency, Washington, DC 20340-0001.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:

Current and former military and civilian employees of DIA, to include military and civilian personnel as well as their dependents nominated for assignment to the Defense Attaché System (DAS).

Categories of records in the system:

This system consists of a variety of personnel and directory data, security, education, training, financial and health information, location, telephone and employment related records.

Authority for maintenance of the system:

Pursuant to the authority contained in the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, the Secretary of Defense issued Department of Defense Directive 5105.21 which created the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA) as a separate Department of Defense and charged the Agency’s Director with the responsibility for the maintenance of necessary and appropriate records.

Purpose(s):

The PMIS collects employment information on current and former military and civilian employees of DIA, to include military and civilian personnel as well as their dependents nominated for assignment to the Defense Attaché System. The system contains a variety of personnel and directory data, security, education, training, financial and health information, location, telephone and employment related records which are required by the Agency to facilitate its day-to-day operations. Records are used by staff, administrative and operating officials to: Prepare individual administrative transactions; make decisions on the rights, benefits, entitlements and the utilization of individuals; provide data source for the production of reports, statistical surveys, rosters, documentation and studies required for the orderly personnel administration within DIA. Information will be disclosed to such other Federal agencies, state and local government, as may have a legitimate use for such information and which agree to apply appropriate safeguards to protect data so provided collected or obtained. Information collected concerning home phone, address and emergency notification data is used to provide postal and locator service, to identify next-of-kin for emergency notification and as a source document to prepare recall and special rosters required for the Agency's day-to-day operations and emergency functions. At overseas locations information may be provided to host country officials, State Department of Justice, Department of Treasury and the Central Intelligence Agency.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:

See Blanket Routine Uses at the beginning of DIA’s listing of the record system notices.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:

Automated, maintained on magnetic tape and manual in paper files and cards, and on microfilms.

Retrievability:

By name or social security account number.

Safeguards:

Records are maintained in a building protected by security guards and are stored in vaults, safe or locked cabinets and are accessible only to authorized personnel who are properly screened, cleared and trained in the protection of privacy information.

Retention and disposal:

Paper files are destroyed when employment with the Agency ceases. Temporary microfilm records are destroyed when replaced with an updated film and magnetic tape files are retained indefinitely as a permanent record. Directory Service files are destroyed 1 year after the individual departs the Agency. Defense Attaché System records are maintained for 1 year beyond the individual’s tour completion date and then destroyed.

System manager(s) and address:

Notification procedure:

To determine if this system of records contains information pertaining to you, submit a written request to: the Freedom of Information Office (RTS-1), Defense Intelligence Agency, Washington, DC 20340-2399. Your request must include your full name, current address, telephone number and social security account number or date of birth. Requests submitted on behalf of other persons must include their written, notarized authorization. Providing of the social security number under E.O. 9397 is voluntary and it will be used solely for identification purposes. Failure to provide the social security number will not affect the individual’s rights.

Record access procedures:

Individuals may access records pertaining to them by writing as indicated in "Notification Procedures", providing information specified therein.

Contesting record procedures:

DIA rules for access to records and for contesting and appealing initial determinations are contained in 32 CFR part 292a and DIA Regulation 12-12.

Record source categories:

Agency officials, Ambassadors, employees, educational institutions, parent Service of individual and immediate supervisor on station, and other Government officials.

Exemptions claimed for the system:

None.

LDIA 0008

System name: Vehicle Registration Information Files.

System location: Defense Intelligence Agency, Washington, DC 20340-3299.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:

DIA employees and civilian contractors who register vehicles in order to gain entrance to DoD installations and those who may apply for a parking permit.

Categories of records in the system:

Individual’s name, Social Security Number, home address, office symbol, work telephone number, vehicle identification, and related information.

Authority for maintenance of the system:

Purpose(s):

To provide a record for control of privately-owned vehicles which are authorized to operate on DoD installations; to assign parking permits to eligible military and civilian personnel and to maintain a record of parking permits and vehicle registration data; to identify vehicles and their owners in the event of an emergency or traffic problem.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:

The Defense Intelligence Agency “Blanket Routine Uses” set forth at the beginning of DIA’s compilation of record system notices apply to this record system.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:

Application cards, forms, and accountability logs. Data is also stored and maintained on a microcomputer.

Retrievability:

By Name, Social Security Number, decal number, state vehicle number, or carpool number.

Safeguards:

Access to records in this system are limited to personnel authorized to handle vehicle registrations and issue parking permits. Building access is controlled and office door is locked during non-duty hours.

Retention and disposal:

Paper records are maintained for one year after departure or loss of eligibility and then destroyed. In the case of automated files, they are erased, over-printed, or destroyed, as appropriate.

System manager(s) and address:

Authority for maintenance of the system:

Pursuant to the authority contained in the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, the Secretary of Defense issued Department of Defense Directive 5105.21 which created the Defense Intelligence Agency as a separate agency of the Department of Defense and charged the Agency's Director with the responsibility for the maintenance of necessary and appropriate records.

Purposes:

Information is collected and maintained to provide the Agency an accurate accountability of individuals involved in alcohol and drug abuse activities, education and training, and rehabilitation programs. Quarterly and annual program reports are generated based on the systems maintained in the DIA. Blanket 'routine uses' for DIA systems of records do not apply to this system of records. Records concerning the identity, medical diagnosis, prognosis, or treatment of any person irrespective of whether or when the individual ceased treatment, maintained in connection with the performance of any alcohol or drug abuse prevention and treatment function conducted, regulated, or directly or indirectly assisted by any department or agency of the United States, are confidential and may be disclosed only for the purposes and under the circumstances expressly authorized. Title 21 U.S.C., Section 1775 (as amended) and Title 42 U.S.C. Section 4582 (as amended).

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:

The records in the system may be disclosed outside DIA: To Government personnel for the purpose of obtaining benefits to which the person undergoing treatment is entitled; to qualified personnel for the purpose of conducting scientific research, management or financial audits, or program evaluation; to appropriate elements within the Department of State, Department of Justice and Office of Personnel Management when required for actions relative to the employees' employment, access to classified material or areas; or to a court of competent jurisdiction upon authorization by an appropriate order. Any safeguards against unauthorized disclosure imposed by the court in this order shall be honored.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

- Storage:
  - Paper records maintained in file folders (manual).

- Retrievability:
  - By name and social security account number.

- Safeguards:
  - Records are maintained in a building protected by security guards and are stored in vaults, safes or locked cabinets and are accessible only to authorized personnel who are properly screened, cleared, and trained in the protection of this information and have a need for access in connection with their official duties.

- Retention and disposal:
  - Records are destroyed 2 years after the individual leaves the treatment program or the case is terminated.

System manager(s) and address:

Notification procedure:

LDIA 0660

System name:
Security Files.

System location:

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
Military/civilian applicants and nominees to DIA; current and former DIA and Defense Attaché System personnel; and other DoD-affiliated personnel under the security cognizance of DIA.

Categories of records in the system:
Records associated with personnel security functions, nomination notices, statement of personal history, indoctrination/debriefing memoranda, secrecy and nondisclosure agreements, certificates of clearance, adjudication memoranda and supporting documentation and in-house investigations, security violations, identification badge records, retrieval indices, clearance status records, and access control records and Social Security Number.

Authority for maintenance of the system:
Pursuant to the authority contained in the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, the Secretary of Defense issued Department of Defense Directive 5105.21 which created the Defense Intelligence Agency as a separate agency of the Department of Defense and charged the Agency's Director with the responsibility for the maintenance of necessary and appropriate records and Executive Order 9397.

Purpose(s):
Information is collected in order to accomplish those administrative and personnel security functions relating to initial and continued assignment/employment and eligibility for access to classified information.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
Information may be disclosed to other Federal agencies, state and local governments, as may have a legitimate use for such information and are able to apply appropriate safeguards to protect the data in a manner consistent with the conditions or expectations under which the information was provided, collected or obtained.
The "Blanket Routine Uses" published at the beginning of DIA's compilation of record system notices also apply to this system of records.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:
Automated in computer, manual in paper files, or on microform.

Retrievability:
Alphabetically by surname of individual or by Social Security Number.

Safeguards:
Records are maintained in a building protected by security guards and are stored in vaults, safes or locked cabinets and are accessible only to authorized personnel who are properly screened, cleared and trained in the protection of privacy information.

Retention and disposal:
Records of civilian and military applicants not hired by or assigned to DIA and favorable files of employees departing DIA are maintained up to 1 year and then destroyed. Outprocessing interviews will be retained for 5 years and then destroyed. Indoctrination/debriefing memoranda and non-disclosure agreements pertaining to access to Secret Compartmentalized Information are retained for 70 years or until notification of the death of the signee, whichever is sooner. Files containing information which may conceivably result in litigation and non-Secret Compartmentalized Information security agreements are destroyed when no longer required.

LDIA0813

System name:
Bibliographic Data Index System.

System location:

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
Individuals who have published works of general interest to the Agency, and individuals involved in foreign intelligence activities.

Categories of records in the system:
An index of names of authors, title of published works, subject matter of writing, and the location of source documents of open source literature and intelligence reports.

Authority for maintenance of the system:
Pursuant to the authority contained in the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, the Secretary of Defense issued Department of Defense Directive 5105.21 which created the Defense Intelligence Agency as a separate agency of the Department of Defense and charged the Agency's Director with the responsibility for the maintenance of necessary and appropriate records.

Purpose(s):
File is used for basic reference purposes for open source and classified documents. Information is used by Agency analysts, other authorized Federal agencies and contractor personnel for research on intelligence subjects related to foreign intelligence activities. Serves as a traditional library reference service for open source literature and intelligence reports.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:

UNITED STATES MARINE CORPS

How Systems Of Records Are Arranged.

In the Marine Corps, records are categorized by subject series. Each series has assigned a subject title, a three-letter prefix and followed by a five-digit number. For example, the systems of records containing pay data may be found in the Fiscal/Disbursing series (MFDOOOOX). The letter M stands for Marine Corps; the next two letters indicate that the records are pay related; and the following five digit number is a further breakdown of the series for identification purposes.

How To Use The Index Guide.

The system of records maintained by the Marine Corps are contained within the subject series that are listed below. This list identified each series in the order they appear in this compilation. Use the list to identify subject areas of interest. Having done so, use the appropriate system identification series to locate the systems of records grouping in which you are interested.

REQUESTING RECORDS

Records are retrieved by name or by some other personal identifier. It is therefore especially important for expeditious service when requesting a record that particular attention be provided to the Notification and/or Access Procedures of the particular record system involved so as to furnish the required personal identifiers, or any other pertinent personal information as may be required to locate and retrieve the record.

BLANKET ROUTINE USES

Certain blanket ‘routine uses’ of the records have been established that are applicable to every record system maintained within the Department of Defense unless specifically stated otherwise within a particular record system. These additional blanket routine uses of the records are published below only once in the interest of simplicity, economy and to avoid redundancy before the individual record system notices begin rather than repeating them in every individual record system.
ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE TO THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE FOR LITIGATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to any component of the Department of Justice for the purpose of representing the Department of Defense, or any officer, employee or member of the Department in pending or potential litigation to which the record is pertinent.

Information as to current military addresses and assignments may be provided to military banking facilities who provide banking services overseas and who are reimbursed by the Government for certain checking and loan losses. For personnel separated, discharged, or retired from the Armed Forces, information as to last known residential or home of record address may be provided to the military banking facility upon certification by a banking facility officer that the facility has a returned or dishonored check negotiated by the individual or the individual has defaulted on a loan and that if restitution is not made by the individual, the U.S. Government will be liable for the losses the facility may incur.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO THE GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION (GSA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the General Services Administration (GSA) for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION (NARA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE TO THE MERIT SYSTEMS PROTECTION BOARD

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the Merit Systems Protection Board, including the Office of the Special Counsel for the purpose of litigation, including administrative proceedings, appeals, special studies of the civil service and other merit systems, review of OPM or component rules and regulations, investigation of alleged or possible prohibited personnel practices, including administrative proceedings involving any individual subject of a DoD investigation, and such other functions, promulgated in 5 U.S.C. 1205 and 1206, or as may be authorized by law.

ROUTINE USE-COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PURPOSES

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use outside the DoD or the U.S. Government for the purpose of counterintelligence activities authorized by U.S. Law or Executive Order or for the purpose of enforcing laws which protect the national security of the United States.

System name: MAAA00001
Flight Readiness Evaluation Data System (FREDS).

System locations:
Headquarters, U.S. Marine Corps (Code A), Washington, DC 20380-0001 and Marine Corps aviation units. U.S. Marine Corps official mailing addresses are incorporated into Department of the Navy’s mailing addresses, published as an appendix to the Navy’s compilation of record system notices.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
All active Marine Corps Air Crewmembers (Naval Aviators/Naval Flight Officers and Enlisted Crewmembers).

Categories of records in the system:
Files contain personal identifying information such as name, rank, Social Security Number, organization, etc., and specific information with regard to aviation qualifications.

Authority for maintenance of the system:
5 U.S.C. 301; 10 U.S.C. 5013; and Executive Order 9397.

Purpose(s):
To maintain records on all Marine Corps aircrewmembers to enable officials and employees of the Marine Corps to administer and manage aircrewmember assets.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
The Marine Corps “Blanket Routine Uses” that appear at the beginning of the agency’s compilation of record system notices apply to this system.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:
Stored on magnetic tape.

Retrievability:
Retrieved by name and Social Security Number.

 Safeguards:
Tapes are stored in limited access areas and handled by personnel that are properly trained in working with personal information.

Retention and disposal:
File is maintained on individual as long as he/she is in an active flight status. Once individual is removed from active flight status, data is erased from tape.

System manager(s) and address:

Notification procedure:
Individuals seeking to determine whether this record system contains information about themselves should address written inquiries to the commanding officer of the aviation unit to which they are assigned. U.S. Marine Corps official mailing addresses are incorporated into Department of the Navy’s mailing addresses, published as an appendix to the Navy’s compilation of record system notices.

Written requests should contain full name, grade, and Social Security Number of the individual.

Record access procedures:
Individuals seeking access to records about themselves contained in this system of records should address written inquiries to the commanding officer of the aviation unit to which they are assigned. U.S. Marine Corps official mailing addresses are incorporated into Department of the Navy’s mailing addresses, published as an appendix to the Navy’s compilation of record system notices.

Written requests should include full name, grade, and Social Security Number of the individual.

For personal visits the individual should be able to provide personal identification, such as valid military identification card, driver’s license, etc.

Contesting record procedures:
The Department of the Navy rules for contesting contents and appealing initial agency determinations by the individual concerned are published in Secretary of the Navy Instruction 5211.5, Marine Corps Order P5211.2, 32 CFR part 701; or may be obtained from the system manager.

Record source categories:
The primary source is the individual. The individual’s commanding officer or the commanding officer’s designated individual may provide certain information.

Exemptions claimed for the system:
None.

System name: MAAA00002

System location:
Marine Corps Aircrew Performance/Qualification Information.

Categories of records covered by the system:
Marine Corps aeronautically designated personnel (Naval Aviators, Naval Aviators, Naval Flight Officers, and aircrew members) who have been the subject of medical qualification, flight pay entitlement, and/or Flight Status Selection Board (FSSB) correspondence.

Authority for maintenance of the system:
The file contains information on medical qualification, flight pay entitlements, and/or FSSB correspondence and the background data addressing such correspondence.

Authority for maintenance of the system:
Title 5, U.S. Code 301; Title 10, U.S. Code 5031

Purpose(s):
To maintain records on Marine Corps aeronautically designated personnel for use by Officials and employees of the Marine Corps in the administration and management of such personnel.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
- The Blanket Routine Uses that appear at the beginning of the Marine Corps compilation apply to this system.
- The Attorney General of the U.S. - By Officials and employees of the Office of the Attorney General in connection with litigation, law enforcement or other matters under the direct jurisdiction of the Department of Justice or as carried out as the legal representative of the Executive Branch agencies.
- Courts - By Officials of duly established local, state and federal courts as a result of court order pertaining to matters properly within the purview of said court.
- Congress of the U.S. - By The Senate or the House of Representatives of the U.S. or any committee or subcommittee thereof, any joint committee on matters within their jurisdiction requiring disclosure of the files.
- The Comptroller General of the U.S. - By the Comptroller General of his authorized representatives in the course of the performance of duties of the General Accounting Office relating to the Marine Corps.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:
Information is contained on paper records in file folders.

Retrieveability:
Information is retrieved alphabetically by the last name of the individual concerned.

Safeguards:
Building containing files employs 24 hour security guards. Offices containing files are locked after working hours and personnel handling records do so only on a 'need-to-know' basis. Such personnel are trained and screened for dependability. Material that could be considered 'career-sensitive' is retained in a safe.

Retention and disposal:
Files are permanent. They are retained in active file until it is determined they are no longer required, then transferred to Marine Corps Central Files for historical deposit.

System manager(s) and address:
The Commandant of the Marine Corps, Headquarters, U.S. Marine Corps, Washington, DC 20380

Notification procedure:
Information may be obtained from:

Record access procedures:

The Senate or the House of Representatives of the United States or any committee or subcommittee thereof, any joint committee of Congress or any subcommittee of joint committees on matters within their jurisdiction requiring disclosure of the files of Marine Corps military personnel. When required by Federal Statute, by Executive Order, or by treaty, personnel record information will be disclosed to the individual, organization, or governmental agency as necessary.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:
Paper files and file folders.

Retrievability:
Files are retrieved alphabetically by name of the complainant or by the name of the individual who is the subject of the complaint.

Safeguards:
Files are stored in filing cabinets. After normal working hours, rooms are locked. Building is located in controlled access area with security guards on 24 hour duty. Access to files is limited to official capacity on a need-to-know basis. Files held by field activities are maintained in areas accessible only to authorized personnel that are properly trained.

Retention and disposal:
Records disposed of two years after administrative closing of the case.

System manager(s) and address:

Notification procedure:
Correspondence pertaining to files maintained should be addressed to: Commandant of the Marine Corps (Code MPH), Headquarters, U.S. Marine Corps, Washington, DC 20380.

Written request for information should contain the individual's name, social security number, and signature.

Personnel visits may be made to Headquarters, U.S. Marine Corps (Code MPH), Columbia Pike and Arlington, Ridge Road, Arlington, Virginia 22214. Individuals should be able to provide personal identification to include valid military identification or two valid civilian items of identification such as driver's license, passport, credit cards, etc.

Record access procedures:
Requests should be addressed to the System Manager.

Contesting record procedures:
The agency's rules for contesting contents and appealing initial determination by the individual are contained in SECNAVINST 5211.5C and 32 CFR 701.1 et seq. Additional information may be obtained from the System Manager.

Record source categories:
Individual concerned, other systems, investigations, witnesses and correspondents.

Exemptions claimed for the system:
None.

System name:
MMN00045

System location:
Automated Recruit Management System (ARMS).

Decentralized System—Each Recruiting Station, District Headquarters, Marine Corps Recruit Depot and School of Infantry within the Marine Corps. U.S. Marine Corps official mailing addresses are incorporated into Department of the Navy's mailing addresses, published as an appendix to the Navy's compilation of record system notices.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
All Marine Corps Regular and Reserve recruits.

Categories of records in the system:
File contains information voluntarily provided by recruits as contained on the Application for Enlistment—Armed Forces of the United States.

Authority for maintenance of the system:
5 U.S.C. 301; 10 U.S.C. 5013; and Executive Order 9397.

Purposes:
To provide a record on all Marine Corps recruits for use in tracking from entry through Marine combat training.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
The Marine Corps "Blanket Routine Uses" that appear at the beginning of the agency's compilation of systems notices apply to this system.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:
The file will be stored via on-line disk with backup on magnetic disk with backup on magnetic tape. Backup audit trail record will be available at the point-of-entry.

Retrievability:
Standard reports and ad hoc retrievals are generated from remote terminals using a data base management system. Additionally, updates and record browsing may be accomplished in the interactive mode through keying Social Security Number.

Safeguards:
Records are maintained in areas accessible only to authorized personnel that are properly screened, cleared, and trained. "Hard copy" or paper output from the system is stored in locked containers. System software contains user passwords to lock out unauthorized access. System software contains partitions to limit access to appropriate organizational level.

Retention and disposal:
On-line magnetic records will be maintained for one year after completion of recruit training. Records are then retired to a "history file" where they will be retained for a period of four years and then destroyed.

System manager(s) and address:

Notification procedure:
Individual seeking to determine whether this system of records contains information about their ARMS records should be addressed to the Commandant of the Marine Corps (M&RA), Headquarters, U.S. Marine Corps, Washington, DC 20380-0001.

Written requests for information should contain the full name and Social Security Number of the individual.
The requester may also visit any Marine Corps Recruiting Station to determine whether ARMS contains records pertaining to him/her. In order to personally visit a Recruiting Station and obtain information, individuals must present proper identification such as driver's license, or some other suitable proof of identity.

Record access procedures:
Individuals seeking access to records about themselves contained in this system of records should address written inquiries to the Commanding Officer of the activity to which they were assigned.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:
Active duty officers and enlisted personnel selected for warrant officer whose active duty component code is 11 thru 13, C1 thru C6, and CH.

Categories of records in the system:
The Officer Slate File contains assignment data pertinent to each individual officer's future assignment and sufficient data relative to his present assignment to determine the billet to which the officer is assigned.

Authority for maintenance of the system:
10 U.S.C. 5031, Secretary of the Navy; responsibilities.

Purpose(s):
To provide a record of assignment data on officers for use in affecting an officer's assignment to the next duty station.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:
The Blanket Routine Uses that appear at the beginning of the Marine Corps compendium apply to this system.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:
Records are stored on magnetic discs and back-up generations are stored on magnetic tape. Back-up tapes are maintained for approximately one week and then erased.

Retrievability:
Records are accessed by social security number.

Safeguards:
a. Hard-wired terminals which operate on an on-line interactive mode support this system. System information is protected by the following software features: User account number; user identification number; password, and the file is in a 'restricted' status for use by the Officer Assignment Branch only.
b. Access to the building in which the terminals and computer system is protected by a security agency and requires positive identification for admission. Access to the terminals is under the control of authorized personnel during working hours. Office spaces in which the terminals are located are locked after working hours, and checked in the evening by the designated staff duty officer at Headquarters Marine Corps.

Retention and disposal:
Records are retained for the period an officer is on active duty. Officers reporting to active duty are added to the file automatically and those officers being transferred to other than active duty status are deleted from the file automatically. This process occurs once each week to coincide with the updating of the Manpower Management System. Back-up generations are retained for approximately one week in the event a systems failure/error requires the file to be restored. After this time the back-up tape is erased.

UNITED STATES NAVY
How Systems are Arranged

Department of the Navy systems of records are numbered to coincide with the subject matters identified in the Standard Subject Identification Code (SSID).

Each series of records has been assigned a major subject title, followed by a combined alpha-numeric identification number. For example, the systems of records containing financial information would be found under the major subject title, Financial Management. The range of identification of records will be from 7000 to 7999. The systems of records concerning military pay is 7220. If there are multiple systems of records maintained under this series, the identification number will be identified as N07220-1, N07220-2, N07220-3, etc. The last digit, i.e., -1, -2, -3, indicates the first, second, and third systems of records within the category of military pay.

When assigning numbers to systems of records, we identify the appropriate SSID for the system and formulate the system number by adding "N" for Navy to the beginning of the number, followed by the SSID number. "N" is placed after the "N" for SSID codes 1000 through 9999, since each system must begin with "N" followed by five digits.

How To Use the Index Guide

The systems of records maintained by the Department of the Navy are contained within the major subject title and numerical series of the SSID. The list identifies each series in numerical order. Use the list to identify major areas of interest.

REQUESTING RECORDS

Records are retrieved by name or by some other personal identifier. It is therefore especially important for expeditious service when requesting a record that particular attention be provided to the Notification and/or Access Procedures of the particular record system involved so as to furnish the required personal identifiers, or any other pertinent personal information as may be required to locate and retrieve the record.

BLANKET ROUTINE USES

Certain blanket 'routine uses' of the records have been established that are applicable to every record system maintained within the Department of Defense unless specifically stated otherwise within a particular record system. These additional blanket routine uses of the records are published below only once in the interest of simplicity, economy and to avoid redundancy before the individual record system notices begin rather than repeating them in every individual record system.

In the event that a system of records maintained by this component to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether Federal, state, local, or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE WHEN REQUESTING INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to a Federal, state, or local agency maintaining civil, criminal, or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to a component decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF REQUESTED INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to a Federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

ROUTINE USE-CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRIES

Disclosure from a system of records maintained by this component may be made to a Congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the Congressional office made at the request of that individual.

ROUTINE USE-PRIVATE RELIEF LEGISLATION

Relevant information contained in all systems of records of the Department of Defense, established on or before August 22, 1973, may be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to foreign law enforcement, security, investigatory, or administrative authorities in order to comply with requirements imposed by, or to claim rights conferred in, international agreements and arrangements including those regulating the stationing and status in foreign countries of Department of Defense military and civilian personnel.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE TO STATE AND LOCAL TAXING AUTHORITIES

Any information normally contained in IRS Form W-2 which is maintained in a record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to state and local taxing authorities with which the Secretary of the Treasury has entered into agreements pursuant to Title 5, U.S. Code, Sections 5516, 5517, 5520, and only to those state and local taxing authorities for which an employee or military member is or was subject to tax regardless of whether tax is or was withheld. This routine use is in accordance with Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual Bulletin Nr. 76-07.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO THE OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

A record from a system of records subject to the Privacy Act and maintained by this component may be disclosed to the Office of Personnel Management concerning information on pay and leave, benefits, retirement deductions, and any other information necessary, for the Office of Personnel Management to carry out its legally authorized Government-wide personnel management functions and studies.

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to any component of the Department of Justice for the purpose of representing the Department of Defense, or any officer, employee or member of the Department in pending or potential litigation to which the record is pertinent.

Information as to current military addresses and assignments may be provided to military banking facilities who provide banking services overseas and who are reimbursed by the Government for certain checking and loan losses. For personnel separated, discharged, or retired from the Armed Forces, information as to last known residential or home of record address may be provided to the military banking facility upon certification by a banking facility officer that the facility has a returned or dishonored check negotiated by the individual or the individual has defaulted on a loan and that if restitution is not made by the individual, the U.S. Government will be liable for the losses the facility may incur.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO THE GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION (GSA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the General Services Administration (GSA) for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION (NARA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE-DISCLOSURE TO THE MERIT SYSTEMS PROTECTION BOARD

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the Merit Systems Protection Board, including the Office of the Special Counsel for the purpose of investigations, including administrative proceedings, appeals, special studies of the civil service and other merit systems, review of OPM or component rules and regulations, investigation of alleged or possible prohibited personnel practices; including administrative proceedings involving any individual subject of a DoD investigation, and such other functions, promulgated in 5 U.S.C. 1205 and 1206, or as may be authorized by law.

ROUTINE USE-COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PURPOSES

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use outside the DoD or the U.S. Government for the purpose of counterintelligence activities authorized by U.S. Law or Executive Order or for the purpose of enforcing laws which protect the national security of the United States.
